Twisters Rake Areas Of South

McCormack Pushes Lower Voting Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack, whose 78 years have made him a target of the young, is making his last big legislative fight an attempt to win the vote for 18-year-olds.

The speaker, who is retiring from the House after this session of Congress, is pushing hard for passage of a bill that would extend the Voting Rights Act of 1965 and lower the voting age to 18.

Largely as a result of his efforts, backers of the bill are confident they have the votes to send it to the White House when the House takes it up Wednesday.

McCormack has been calling on members who are undecided or actually in opposition to the bill and asking for their support.

Passage of the bill would also be sweet revenge for the speaker for a painful setback he and the other House leaders suffered last December when the chamber rejected an extension of the Voting Rights Act in favor of a milder, broader administration measure.

The 1965 act zeroes in on the South and has been credited with adding nearly one million blacks to the voter rolls in seven Southern states.

The Senate extended the act and added the 18-year-old voting provision to it, and McCormack is trying to get the House to accept the Senate version without further change.

Working against him is the Republican leader, Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, Ford, supporting the administration's position, wants to send the bill to a House-Senate conference to have the 18-year-old voting provision deleted.

It is President Nixon's contention that lowering the voting age requires a constitutional amendment, not a simple act of Congress. He has said he would support such an amendment.

Enlistment Drop Eyed By Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unexpected drop in Army enlistments last month could herald trouble for Pentagon hopes of cutting the draft to as low as 150,000 men this year.

The Army said enlistments in May totaled 7,629—nearly 3,500 below the month's objective.

Officials were unable to explain the drop, except to note a sharp upturn in antiwar demonstration during May as a result of the U.S. drive into Cambodia. Defense officials indicated they will pay close attention to the trend in enlistments this month and next—when the end of school traditionally brings more volunteers—in hopes the situation rights itself.

Any deficit in enlistments is made up by increasing draft calls in future months.

The Pentagon Thursday announced a July draft call of 15,000 young men for the Army. Sources said this call would have been lower were it not for the unanticipated fall off in last month's enlistments.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has said draft inductions this year hopefully will fall as low as 150,000 men, compared with nearly double that, 290,000, in 1969.

Defense authorities are now saying the 1970 draft total probably will not drop that low and the Pentagon has started hedging somewhat on Laird's forecast, using an expected range of between 150,000 and 180,000.

Senate War Foes Win Test Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-war forces in the Senate have paved the way for expected approval of a proposal to curtail future U.S. actions in Cambodia, but the victory could be more symbolic than substantial because of continued White House and House opposition.

The Senate defeated 52-47 Thursday a key administration-backed amendment by Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., that proponents said would have emasculated the curb on presidential war powers. Both sides said the vote signified passage of the Cooper-Church amendment next week.

With the Byrd vote out of the way, the Senate turned its attention today to an amendment by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to cut all funds out of the military sales appropriation bill for gifts and credit sales of firearms or military equipment to other nations.

The appropriations measure has been the vehicle for the Cambodia limitation effort sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman, R-Ky.

Williams also wanted to remove a section of the bill expressing congressional support for credit sales to Israel. But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., blocked any quick vote on that. Many strong supporters of the Cooper-Church amendment oppose the military sales authority provisions of the bill. Both the House and the Nixon administration have a diametrically opposite point of view.

Thus, the Cooper-Church forces in the Senate hope to use the administration's strong desire for the military sales au-

West German Ambassador Kidnaped By Terrorists

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The Brazilian government said Thursday night that it would do all it could to obtain the safe release of West German Ambassador Ehrenfried von Holleben, kidnaped by leftist terrorists who killed a Brazilian security guard and wounded two others.

The military government of President Emilio Garrastazu Medici was expected to meet the kidnapers' demand that political prisoners be exchanged for the 61-year-old diplomat. But pamphlets left by the kidnapers did not say what prisoners they wanted or even how many.

Von Holleben was snatched by about eight young people Thursday evening as he was returning home in his chauffeur-driven Mercedes Benz.

As the car rounded a sharp turn two blocks from the ambassador's residence, his youthful abductors shot out a street light, rammed the front of his car with a jeep and machine gunned a station wagon carrying security men behind the Mercedes, witnesses said.

Two young armed men then forced their way into von Holleben's car, gunning to death a Brazilian security agent in the front seat as he reached for his pistol. While others covered the two wounded security men who had been in the station wagon, the ambassador was dragged from his car and driven away in a waiting Chevrolet.

The ambassador's Brazilian driver was not hurt.

A blonde woman strewed packets of pamphlets on the street, then she and the kidnapers fled in at least three cars.

The pamphlets identified the abductors as members of the Popular Revolutionary Vanguard, one of several leftist commando groups in Brazil.

"We regret we have once more to resort to methods which we have always tried to avoid," the pamphlet said. "However, as long as patriots are being tortured and killed in the prisons, we will not have any other choice, even knowing that the lives of people not directly involved in the revolutionary struggle are at risk."

Von Holleben was the second West German diplomat kidnaped in Latin America this year. Count Karl von Sprei, the ambassador to Guatemala, was kidnaped by leftists there in April and was murdered after the government refused to release the political prisoners demanded in exchange for him.

Bill Creating 3 Consumer Agencies OK'd By Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill creating three consumer agencies—described by the measure's chief architect as "the first balance wheel inserted into the market place in 50 years"—has been unanimously approved by a House subcommittee.

Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., said the new agencies will give the consumers a voice in the federal government and the courts.

The agencies are essential, he said, because federal regulatory agencies "have become clients of the industries they're supposed to regulate."

—Create an independent Consumer Protection Agency to represent citizen interests in all pertinent government and court proceedings except criminal cases.

—Create a 12-member Consumer Advisory Council to advise the White House office and protection agency on the effectiveness of laws and federal programs involving consumer interests.

Rosenthal predicted the bill will breeze through the parent House government Operations Committee within two to three weeks.

He said the unanimous approval Thursday by subcommittee Democrats and Republicans, including Mrs. Dwyer, should assure House approval. A similar bill is expected to be approved by a Senate subcommittee next week.

The measure is a compromise after nearly a year's work between Rosenthal's original proposal to set up a Cabinet consumer department and administration bills to keep the White House office and create a consumer protection agency in the Justice Department.

The administration won the White House office and Rosenthal—who contended the Justice Department would have a conflict of interest between being the government's lawyer and the consumer's lawyer—won the independent protection agency.

Humphrey Sets Bid For Senate

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, a political power in Minnesota for 25 years, hits the comeback trail Saturday with an announcement that he is a candidate for the U.S. Senate.

Humphrey, 59, will follow up the announcement with a news conference Sunday afternoon at his lakeside home in Waverly.

He will seek the seat now held by Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, a fellow Democrat who has announced he will not seek re-election.

Humphrey is counting on endorsement without opposition at the state Democratic party convention June 26-28.

His opponent in November will be Republican Rep. Clark MacGregor, a 10-year congressman with close ties to the Nixon administration.

MacGregor, 48, is unopposed for his party's endorsement at the state GOP convention next week.

Trash Fires Spark Trouble In Brooklyn

NEW YORK (AP) — The setting of trash fires set off sporadic disorders in the East New York section of Brooklyn early today. A police car was fire-bombed, building windows were broken and some stores were looted, officers said.

Police said a report of a sniper firing at police vehicles proved to be false.

No serious injuries were reported. Police said they arrested 11 persons.

A police spokesman said officers investigated what they said was a "loud report in the area but found no evidence of a sniper. The police ticker reported that a sniper was firing an automatic weapon and preventing firemen from extinguishing a fire.

At least eight store windows were broken and several stores looted during the disorders, police said.

Asst. Chief Police Inspector Michael Codd, who went to the scene, said "It was a few individuals, not the entire neighborhood, that caused the damage.

A police spokesman added, "Most of the damage was done by a roving band. As of now, everything is reported fine.

Five arrested persons, ranging in age from 16 to 30, were charged with burglary, police said.

58 Foreigners Freed By Arabs; U.S. Widow Held

Fifty-eight foreigners held hostage in Amman were reported released today, but Egypt's Middle East News Agency reported that a commando group was holding the widow of an American military attaché killed by guerrillas in the Jordanian capital earlier this week.

A guerrilla organization in Beirut announced that the radical Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine this morning released the 58 Americans, Brit-

Allen Raps White House For Dismissal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deposed U.S. commissioner of Education James E. Allen says his job was hampered by politics and lack of White House direction. But he nevertheless considers his 13 months as the country's top educator "rewarding and satisfying."

Calling his dismissal Wednesday "surprising," Allen said he does not blame outgoing Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch for his ouster, but indicated the decision was made at the White House.

In a statement and press conference Thursday Allen said he will "regret that I shall no longer be directly involved in the many excellent projects and programs that are under way in the Office of Education and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare."

But the 59-year-old former New York State education commissioner said he had not received White House support during his service. He said nearly a dozen key jobs had gone unfilled because he had heard unofficially that names he had submitted had been rejected at higher levels on the administration.

He also said that although the administration had made some progress in the field of school desegregation "I did not believe there was a full commitment.

Regarding his recent criticism of the President's decision to send U.S. ground forces in Cambodia, Allen said:

"Since this issue has so profoundly affected the education community and the youth of the nation, I believed that I could not refrain from publicly expressing my views.

ons and other foreigners it had held captive for more than 36 hours in Amman's two main hotels.

Diplomats in the Lebanese capital confirmed the report, but had no details. Regular communication channels with the Jordanian capital were still cut.

The American woman reported a prisoner of the commandos was the widow of Maj. Robert P. Perry of Chicago, an attaché of the U.S. Embassy in Amman who was killed by a group of guerrillas who invaded his residence Wednesday at the height of the fighting between the Palestinians and Jordanian troops.

As the Palestine guerrillas refused to be satisfied by concessions from King Hussein of Jordan and made new demands, U.S. officials were preparing to evacuate about 400 Americans living in Jordan.

In Washington, the White House said only "precautionary planning" was being done. But a representative of the International Red Cross arrived in Amman today to arrange the evacuation, and three Lebanese jetliners were standing by in Beirut to fly the evacuees to Athens.

Hussein made major concessions to the guerrillas Thursday by dismissing his uncle from command of his army and removing a cousin from command of an army division that had spearheaded the battle against the guerrillas in Amman. But Al Fatah, the largest of the commando organizations, said in a broadcast from Cairo that this was only "the beginning of victory for the people."

It demanded that the king renounce his commitment to a political settlement with Israel and said only such a "radical solution" could end the strife in Jordan in which more than 700 persons are reported to have been killed or wounded.

Sanctions Are Lifted Against School District

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Education Association has lifted sanctions imposed March 20 against the Field Local School District of Portage County.

The district passed an operating levy and ratified a professional negotiations agreement after sanctions were declared.

The disclosure came as military sources reported that enemy troops seized nearly half of the provincial capital of Kompong Speu, 30 miles south of Phnom Penh in heavy fighting. Refugees from the town, which lies on the only highway open to Cambodia's major port of Kompong Som, formerly Sihanoukville, said the enemy held the central market and virtually all of that part of the town which lies south of a river bisecting it.

Western military experts termed the decision to cede territory to the enemy realistic, and said that even by concentrating its forces around Phnom Penh and northwest of the capital, the government will have only a 50-50 chance of surviving the next four or five months of monsoon rains.

The threat to the port of Kompong Som, through which all of Phnom Penh's fuel and other vital supplies must pass could have critical consequences.

Enemy troops also made a strong attack 50 miles northeast

2 Persons Die, 37 Injured In 2 States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tornadoes churning out of heavy thunderstorms over the Great Plains Thursday night struck more than a dozen towns in Oklahoma and Arkansas, causing death, damage and injuries.

Two persons were killed—one in each state—by tornadoes, and three others died in incidents related to the storms in Oklahoma. Arkansas counted 25 injured and Oklahoma 12.

Nineteen mobile homes were reported demolished in the Oklahoma communities of Alta Vista and Long Town, south of Tulsa. A teen-age girl died in the Alta Vista twister.

Hardest hit in Arkansas was the mountain town of Springdale, 190 miles northwest of Little Rock. National Guardsmen living in the area were called to duty to search for injured in damaged homes and other buildings.

Torrential rains accompanied the general storminess over the midcontinent. Downpours of 2 to 3 inches occurred in parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska. More than 4 inches swamped an area west of Wichita.

Hugh Means, administrator of Springdale Memorial Hospital, said about 25 persons were treated in the hospital's emergency room and about a half dozen of them were hospitalized.

"We believe the area hardest hit has been pretty thoroughly searched and have no reason to believe any more major injuries will come to our attention," Means said.

The injuries included fractured skulls, broken arms, a punctured lung and several cases of shock, he said.

National Guardsmen living in the area were called to duty to assist in searches of damaged houses and buildings.

Telephone service was disrupted. Surrounding communities dispatched ambulances and law enforcement personnel to Springdale, which is about 190 miles northwest of Little Rock.

Roundtown

STORMS hit the Roundtown area Thursday. Although only 1.25 inches of rain was officially recorded at the weather station located at the pumping station on Island Road, reports of as much as three inches in some areas were received by The Herald.

One farmer who had just cut his hay said it all washed out on the road.

A family of wild ducks sought refuge from the storm near the Northend Market on N. Court Street.

TRAFFIC was backed up as far as Washington Street today because the West Main Street Railroad Crossing was blocked by a train.

THE HERALD has received several letters written by students at Circleville High School expressing concern over the resignation of William O'Neil, band director.

The position of the school administration and the board of education is explained in a letter today appearing on Page 16.

Cambodian Leaders Yield Big Area To Reds

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Cambodian government, faced with sharply mounting pressure from the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese, has decided reluctantly to cede almost half the country to enemy control, well informed diplomatic sources said today.

GM Testing Auto Removal

Abandoned Cars Towed Away Free

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — A two-month experiment by General Motors Corp. in the vicinity of the northern Michigan resort of Traverse City may provide a solution to the problem of removing abandoned cars from rural areas.

The vehicles create eyesores on the countryside. For the next eight weeks, GM, in cooperation with its five dealerships in the area, will remove free of charge any automobiles abandoned within 20 miles of Traverse City.

Roger M. Kyes, executive vice president of GM, said the test is to learn whether the company's program for removing abandoned autos is economically feasible.

Company officials estimate there may be 2,000 to 3,000 junked cars within the test area.

The plan calls for anyone owning or spotting an abandoned car to call a company dealer with details. The dealer takes the information to law enforcement agencies which will determine if the vehicle is eligible for disposal.

If the car can be disposed of, it is taken to a local auto wrecking yard at GM's expense. Usable material is sent to foundries.

Kyes stressed that there is no intent to interfere with scrap collection methods within the city. But he said moving abandoned wrecks from outlying areas is too costly for most scrap yard operators.

Kent State Graduation Saturday

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Kent State University officials say security forces will be increased for tomorrow's graduation ceremonies on the closed campus, but no serious problems are expected.

Some 1,200 students are to receive their degrees Saturday morning in KSU's Memorial Gym. The ceremonies will be the first major event on the campus since it was closed and evacuated by court order following the May 4 shooting deaths of four students.

Kent State officials said that of 1,900 graduates, about 1,200 plan to attend the ceremonies. Each was given tickets for three guests and only ticket holders and holders of regular passes will be permitted onto the campus.

Security officers said the Summit County sheriff's department and other agencies would provide extra manpower to handle an expected crowd of about 4,800.

President Robert I. White will address the graduates. No outside speaker is scheduled.

The court order which closed the campus May 4 had to be amended to permit the holding of graduation exercises. It has also been amended to permit university employees and a limited number of students onto the campus since the closing.

2 Persons Die, 37 Injured In 2 States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tornadoes churning out of heavy thunderstorms over the Great Plains Thursday night struck more than a dozen towns in Oklahoma and Arkansas, causing death, damage and injuries.

Two persons were killed—one in each state—by tornadoes, and three others died in incidents related to the storms in Oklahoma. Arkansas counted 23 injured and Oklahoma 12.

Nineteen mobile homes were reported demolished in the Oklahoma communities of Alta Vista and Long Town, south of Tulsa. A teen-age girl died in the Alta Vista twister.

Hardest hit in Arkansas was the mountain town of Springdale, 190 miles northwest of Little Rock. National Guardsmen living in the area were called to duty to search for injured in damaged homes and other buildings.

Torrential rains accompanied the general storminess over the midcontinent. Downpours of 2 to 3 inches occurred in parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska. More than 4 inches swamped an area west of Wichita.

Hugh Means, administrator of Springdale Memorial Hospital, said about 25 persons were treated in the hospital's emergency room and about a half dozen of them were hospitalized.

"We believe the area hardest hit has been pretty thoroughly searched and have no reason to believe any more major injuries will come to our attention," Means said.

The injuries included fractured skulls, broken arms, a punctured lung and several cases of shock, he said.

National Guardsmen living in the area were called to duty to assist in searches of damaged houses and buildings.

Telephone service was disrupted. Surrounding communities dispatched ambulances and law enforcement personnel to Springdale, which is about 190 miles northwest of Little Rock.

A family of wild ducks sought refuge from the storm near the Northend Market on N. Court Street.

Kurfess Expects Higher Taxes To Be Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature, which carefully avoided tax issues in the pre-election session just completed, probably will approve additional taxes for education next year, according to House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess.

The Bowling Green Republican said Thursday the extra money could come by broadening the base of the sales tax as well as by adopting a county-collected income tax.

Either way, Kurfess said Thursday at a news conference, "the legislature has a commitment to do a basic restructuring of school financing next year."

When the General Assembly adjourned, it kept alive several tax bills in the House Ways and Means Committee.

17-Year Locust Outbreak Reported As Mostly Light

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The so-called 17-year locusts have emerged from their underground burrows in various parts of the nation to drum their familiar mating song through another summer.

A survey showed today the outbreak of the insects, which are actually misnamed periodic cicadas, has primarily occurred in wooded areas of the East and Middle West.

Particularly heavy concentrations were reported only in certain areas of Indiana. Along Fall Creek in northeast Indianapolis the insects were almost as thick as swarming bees and the noise of the incessantly drummed love songs was deafening.

Although the cicadas generally cause little damage to plant life, they have cut through the branches of many maple, mulberry and fruit trees in the Fall Creek area.

The cicadas caused slight damage to fruit trees in northeastern West Virginia.

In Minneapolis, entomologists said the outbreak was not severe and they were not recommending anything for controlling the insects.

Columbus, Ohio, and many other areas in the Midwest had outbreaks of the bugs, but none of the outbreaks were reported to be troublesome.

A spokesman for the New York State Conservation Department said the state has escaped a major infestation this year. He said the insects have not generally been causing problems.

"They don't defoliate like the Biblical locusts which are grasshoppers," he said. "Most damage by cicadas is done by females who slit branches on fruit trees to lay eggs. The young hatch in the tree and then fall to the ground and bury themselves for 17 years."

Dr. Ray Janes, entomologist at Michigan State University, said the cicada outbreak in the Detroit area has been "very mild." He said Michigan is not as susceptible as some other states to the insects because a lot of forest land has been cut since 1953.

There were outbreaks in North Carolina and some damage reported to apple orchards. There was little noise from the cicadas in Washington, D.C., but heavier outbreaks occurred in the suburban areas. One suburban dweller described the noise as "like waking up in the morning in a roller skating rink."

Pennsylvania entomologists reported cicadas in 40 of 67 counties.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejecting a last-ditch attempt to kill the Safeguard antimissile system, the House has passed a $1.99 billion military construction appropriation.

Approval 308 to 57 Thursday and sent to the Senate, the measure includes $365.8 million for Safeguard development, construction and housing.

But an effort by Rep. Sidney R. Yates, D-Ill., to eliminate most of the Safeguard funds was defeated 98 to 6.

Two Youths Are Detained For Truancy

In six cases recently before the Juvenile Court, two Circleville Junior High School students were given detention and probation for truancy from school.

The 14-year-old boy admitted his guilt to leaving school against the order of the principal and was given 10 days in detention and placed on probation for three years. He was further ordered to complete 100 hours of community work.

A girl, 15, was also found guilty of truancy after being served her warning papers. She was placed on probation for three years and given one day in detention.

A 3-year-old child was taken from his home and placed in the custody of the Pickaway County Children's Service temporarily when his mother, Judy Hettinger, was declared incapable of caring for him properly.

Speeding charges were brought against two 17-year-old boys, Gransville Merritt, Ashville, had his license suspended and was fined $25 for speeding 75 in a 50 mile zone, running a stop sign and driving without lights to elude officers. Frank L. Goode, Route 4, had his license restricted for 60 days on a speeding charge.

Greg Grubb, 16, Route 1, Ashville, was picked up by sheriff's deputies for operating an auto without license plates. When picked up, officers discovered Grubb also did not have an operator's license. Stock List Goes Down

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices began firming slightly but remained lower early this afternoon. Trading was light.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 4.18 at 680.24. Earlier it had been down more than 5 points. Declines led advances on the New York Stock Exchange by more than 3 to 1.

Analysts said many investors appeared to be waiting on the sidelines until the market completes what they describe as the final phase of its current period of consolidation.

In the absence of major news developments, most traders were remaining cautious, they said. Many were awaiting President Nixon's speech on the economy, which is expected soon, they added.

Stocks were lower in all categories.

Big Board prices showed Penn Central, off 1 1/2 at 10 1/4; S. S. Kresge, off 1 1/2 at 38; Boise Cascade, off 2 1/2 at 44 1/4; Merox, off 1 1/2 at 76; and Boeing, off 1/2 at 14 1/4.

Partial Refunds From Ohio U To Be Made

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University will make partial refunds for student room and board fees the last four weeks of the spring quarter when students were not on campus.

The university shut down May 15 because of campus disturbances.

President Claude R. Sowle sent letters to students and parents saying estimates are being prepared on what portion of the food and housing costs can be returned. Refunds on registration fees will not be made, he said, because students have been permitted to finish their course work and receive credit.

Sowle said refunds would be made because "the university should not profit in any way because of circumstances under which we were not required to furnish food or housing for a portion of the quarter."

Tiny Tot Swim Classes are scheduled to start Monday morning at the Quality Court Motel.

YMCA Director, Harold Hewitt, reported that the 10 to 11 a.m. class is filled, but there are still openings in the 11 to noon session. Senate . . .

Sens. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., and Charles Percy, R-Ill. Byrd's amendment would have given the president authority to take whatever Cambodian action he deemed necessary to protect U.S. forces in Vietnam. Cooper-Church forces contended this would constitute advance approval for a new U.S. attack into Cambodia like the one launched April 30.

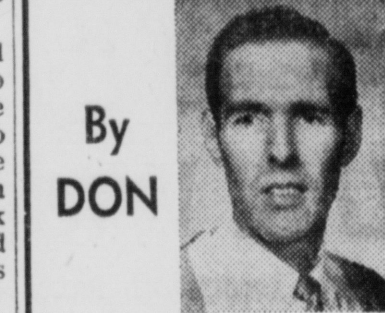

Sensing defeat, the West Virginia Democrat tried twice to modify his amendment to pick up additional votes. But Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., blocked him, contending the changes would only confuse the issue.

Right after the vote, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield apparently secured the antiwar forces' victory by winning approval 91-0 of an amendment specifying that nothing in the Cooper-Church amendment "shall be deemed to impugn the constitutional power of the President as Commander-in-Chief."

A number of senators had expressed fears the Cooper-Church amendment could be interpreted as restricting the President's constitutional powers.

Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., a leading administration spokesman during the debate, said Mansfield's amendment "goes a long way in satisfying many of the objections of those of us who had reservations about the Cooper-Church amendment."

Whiplash Spinal Injuries

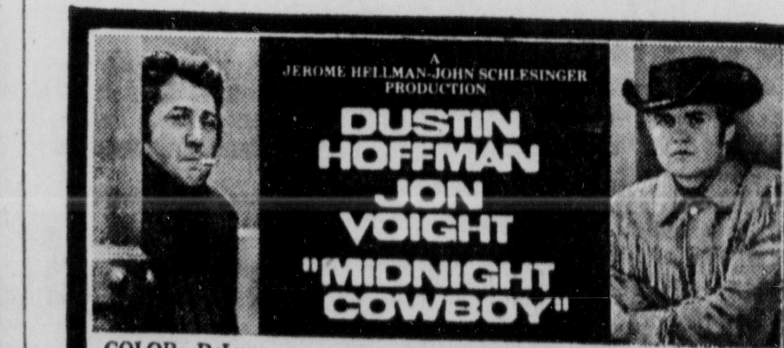

Whiplash injuries to the spine have become a common health problem in the U.S. today. Sixty percent of all injuries received in automobile accidents are located in the neck and back areas, and whiplash appears to be the most common of all automobile accidental injuries.

Headaches, pain or stiffness in the neck or back, dizziness, nervousness, fatigue, loss of balance, numbness of arms, hands, feet, or legs, muscle spasms, disturbances to the heart or stomach, periods of depression or irritability, and double vision, are frequent complications following whiplash neck injuries.

The care and correction of whiplash to the neck and back requires special skill and experience, and today's doctor of chiropractic is best trained to care for this type of injury. Insurance companies recognize the effectiveness of chiropractic care in the correction of whiplash injuries, and all victims should consult a doctor of chiropractic without delay.

17-Year Locust Outbreak Reported As Mostly Light

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The so-called 17-year locusts have emerged from their underground burrows in various parts of the nation to drum their familiar mating song through another summer.

A survey showed today the outbreak of the insects, which are actually misnamed periodic cicadas, has primarily occurred in wooded areas of the East and Middle West.

Particularly heavy concentrations were reported only in certain areas of Indiana. Along Fall Creek in northeast Indianapolis the insects were almost as thick as swarming bees and the noise of the incessantly drummed love songs was deafening.

Although the cicadas generally cause little damage to plant life, they have cut through the branches of many maple, mulberry and fruit trees in the Fall Creek area.

The cicadas caused slight damage to fruit trees in northeastern West Virginia.

In Minneapolis, entomologists said the outbreak was not severe and they were not recommending anything for controlling the insects.

Columbus, Ohio, and many other areas in the Midwest had outbreaks of the bugs, but none of the outbreaks were reported to be troublesome.

A spokesman for the New York State Conservation Department said the state has escaped a major infestation this year. He said the insects have not generally been causing problems.

"They don't defoliate like the Biblical locusts which are grasshoppers," he said. "Most damage by cicadas is done by females who slit branches on fruit trees to lay eggs. The young hatch in the tree and then fall to the ground and bury themselves for 17 years."

Dr. Ray Janes, entomologist at Michigan State University, said the cicada outbreak in the Detroit area has been "very mild." He said Michigan is not as susceptible as some other states to the insects because a lot of forest land has been cut since 1953.

There were outbreaks in North Carolina and some damage reported to apple orchards.

There was little noise from the cicadas in Washington, D.C., but heavier outbreaks occurred in the suburban areas. One suburban dweller described the noise as "like waking up in the morning in a roller skating rink."

Pennsylvania entomologists reported cicadas in 40 of 67 counties.

Two Youths Are Detained For Truancy

In six cases recently before the Juvenile Court, two Circleville Junior High School students were given detention and probation for truancy from school.

The 14-year-old boy admitted his guilt to leaving school against the order of the principal and was given 10 days in detention and placed on probation for three years. He was further ordered to complete 100 hours of community work.

A girl, 15, was also found guilty of truancy after being served her warning papers. She was placed on probation for three years and given one day in detention.

A 3-year-old child was taken from his home and placed in the custody of the Pickaway County Children's Service temporarily when his mother, Judy Hettinger, was declared incapable of caring for him properly.

Speeding charges were brought against two 17-year-old boys, Gransville Merritt, Ashville, had his license suspended and was fined $25 for speeding 75 in a 50 mile zone, running a stop sign and driving without lights to elude officers. Frank L. Goode, Route 4, had his license restricted for 60 days on a speeding charge.

Greg Grubb, 16, Route 1, Ashville, was picked up by sheriff's deputies for operating an auto without license plates. When picked up, officers discovered Grubb also did not have an operator's license. Both his fines were suspended except for $5 and court costs. He was ordered not to apply for his drivers license for six months after becoming eligible.

Partial Refunds From Ohio U To Be Made

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio University will make partial refunds for student room and board fees the last four weeks of the spring quarter when students were not on campus.

The university shut down May 15 because of campus disturbances.

President Claude R. Sowle sent letters to students and parents saying estimates are being prepared on what portion of the food and housing costs can be returned. Refunds on registration fees will not be made, he said, because students have been permitted to finish their course work and receive credit.

Sowle said refunds would be made because "the university should not profit in any way because of circumstances under which we were not required to furnish food or housing for a portion of the quarter."

Registration Open For Y Swim Classes

Tiny Tot Swim Classes are scheduled to start Monday morning at the Quality Court Motel.

YMCA Director, Harold Hewitt, reported that the 10 to 11 a.m. class is filled, but there are still openings in the 11 to noon session. He said, since the Handicapped Session program has been cancelled, due to lack of interest, the 11 to noon period will be used for a second class of pre-school swimmers.

The second session of classes in swimming will begin July 13 and conclude August 9. Registration is being accepted at this time for the second session, and already six signed up for the 10 to 11 a.m. class. The 11 to noon period will be used for an advanced pre-school children's class. This is for children who have participated in the first class session. The 10 to 11 a.m. slot will be used for our regular Tiny Tot Swim Class.

Registration for the first session can still be made at the YMCA Office on Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Registration for the second session will continue until classes are filled.

Senate . . .

Sens. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., and Charles Percy, R-Ill. Byrd's amendment would have given the president authority to take whatever Cambodian action he deemed necessary to protect U.S. forces in Vietnam. Cooper-Church forces contended this would constitute advance approval for a new U.S. attack into Cambodia like the one launched April 30.

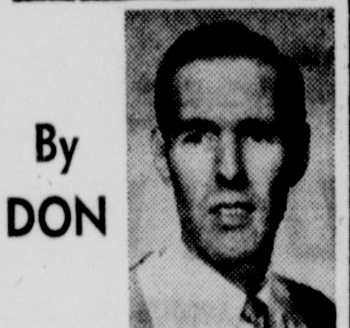

Sensing defeat, the West Virginia Democrat tried twice to modify his amendment to pick up additional votes. But Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., blocked him, contending the changes would only confuse the issue.

Right after the vote, Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield apparently secured the antiwar forces' victory by winning approval 91-0 of an amendment specifying that nothing in the Cooper-Church amendment "shall be deemed to impugn the constitutional power of the President as Commander-in-Chief."

A number of senators had expressed fears the Cooper-Church amendment could be interpreted as restricting the President's constitutional powers.

Sen. Robert J. Doole, R-Kan., a leading administration spokesman during the debate, said Mansfield's amendment "goes a long way in satisfying many of the objections of those of us who had reservations about the Cooper-Church amendment."

Whiplash Spinal Injuries

Whiplash injuries to the spine have become a common health problem in the U.S. today. Sixty percent of all injuries received in automobile accidents are located in the neck and back areas, and whiplash appears to be the most common of all automobile accidental injuries.

Headaches, pain or stiffness in the neck or back, dizziness, nervousness, fatigue, loss of balance, numbness of arms, hands, feet, or legs, muscle spasms, disturbances to the heart or stomach, periods of depression or irritability, and double vision, are frequent complications following whiplash neck injuries.

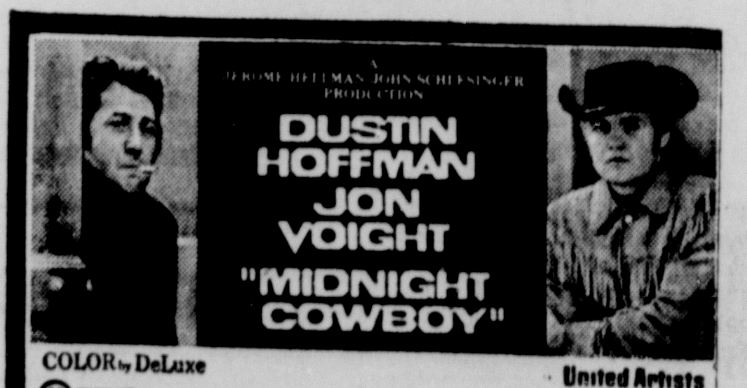

The care and correction of whiplash to the neck and back requires special skill and experience, and today's doctor of chiropractic is best trained to care for this type of injury. Insurance companies recognize the effectiveness of chiropractic care in the correction of whiplash injuries, and all victims should consult a doctor of chiropractic without delay.

Presented in the public interest for better health through chiropractic by the Circleville Chiropractic Center under the auspices of the Central Ohio Chiropractic Association.

'Killer Badge' Lambasted By Former GI

DETROIT (AP) — A Vietnam war veteran says more than 100 badges were awarded to members of a U.S. Army battalion who could prove they killed a Viet Cong last year.

"It turned my stomach," former Sgt. Frank Shepard, 23, of suburban Plymouth, told the Detroit Free Press.

"One way to prove your claim to a badge was to bring back an enemy ear," he said. "It was like we were on a hunting trip or something."

The existence of the badge, but not the number given out, was confirmed by the Defense Department last December.

The 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Infantry Division awarded the badges—inscribed "Sat Cong," meaning "Kill Cong" in Vietnamese—while stationed at Rach Kien, South Vietnam during the summer of 1969, Shepard said.

Shepard said the order creating the badges was signed by Capt. Phillip F. Kearns, the battalion adjutant, on June 28, 1969.

Kearns, presently an ROTC instructor at LaSalle College in Philadelphia, declined comment.

Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., asked the Defense Department about the practice last year, and was told in a letter dated Dec. 18, 1969, "the 2nd Field Force, Vietnam, indicates the Sat Cong badge was a program recently instituted by the 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry."

The letter signed by Col. C.T. Benedict, chief of the Personnel Services Division, said that because of the deaths of the brigade commander and the battalion commander "additional information concerning the badge and its purpose could not be furnished."

The commanders, Col. Dale J. Crumberger, 42, of McLean, Va., and Lt. Col. Leo P. Sikorski, 36, of Detroit, and 10 other Americans were killed Sept. 17, 1969 in a collision of two helicopters.

Benedict added, "The badges and emblems have been removed from uniforms and action has been taken to prevent any similar occurrences in the future."

Shepard served as the battalion clerk.

Columbus Group Backs Utility Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus Chamber of Commerce officials Thursday filed a statement before the Senate Anti-Trust Committee in Washington relative to the proposed acquisition of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. by the American Electric Power Co.

The statement expressed concern over comments made recently to the committee by what the chamber said was an assistant in the Justice Department. The chamber said the man expressed the opinion that the Justice Department will oppose the acquisition in the Securities Exchange Commission.

The statement filed Thursday said that while the committee has not been specifically concerned with the AEP-C&SOE situation, the Justice Department official volunteered his opinions during the general presentation.

Daniel M. Galbreath and Kline L. Roberts, chairman and president, respectively, of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, said in their statement that "the comments and opinions of the assistant in the Justice Department — are of concern to Columbus because we do not believe these observations relate to the facts."

Their statement said the acquisition would work to reduce utility rates, not only in Columbus, but in Cincinnati and Dayton, as well, and noted that AEP would bring an immediate annual rate reduction of $1.5 million to Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric customers.

In contrast, they said, C&SOE recently indicated it would seek a 10 per cent rate increase in Columbus.

'Killer Badge' Lambasted By Former GI

DETROIT (AP) — A Vietnam war veteran says more than 100 badges were awarded to members of a U.S. Army battalion who could prove they killed a Viet Cong last year.

"It turned my stomach," former Sgt. Frank Shepard, 23, of suburban Plymouth, told the Detroit Free Press.

"One way to prove your claim to a badge was to bring back an enemy ear," he said. "It was like we were on a hunting trip or something."

The existence of the badge, but not the number given out, was confirmed by the Defense Department last December.

The 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Infantry Division awarded the badges — inscribed "Sat Cong," meaning "Kill Cong" in Vietnamese — while stationed at Rach Kien, South Vietnam during the summer of 1969, Shepard said.

Shepard said the order creating the badges was signed by Capt. Phillip F. Kearns, the battalion adjutant, on June 28, 1969.

Kearns, presently an ROTC instructor at LaSalle College in Philadelphia, declined comment.

Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., asked the Defense Department about the practice last year, and was told in a letter dated Dec. 18, 1969, "the 2nd Field Force, Vietnam, indicates the Sat Cong badge was a program recently instituted by the 5th Battalion, 60th Infantry."

The letter signed by Col. C.T. Benedict, chief of the Personnel Services Division, said that because of the deaths of the brigade commander and the battalion commander "additional information concerning the badge and its purpose could not be furnished."

The commanders, Col. Dale J. Crumberger, 42, of McLean, Va., and Lt. Col. Leo P. Sikorski 36, of Detroit, and 10 other Americans were killed Sept. 17, 1969 in a collision of two helicopters.

Benedict added, "The badges and emblems have been removed from uniforms and action has been taken to prevent any similar occurrences in the future."

Shepard served as the battalion clerk.

Columbus Group Backs Utility Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus Chamber of Commerce officials Thursday filed a statement before the Senate Anti-Trust Committee in Washington relative to the proposed acquisition of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. by the American Electric Power Co.

The statement expressed concern over comments made recently to the committee by what the chamber said was an assistant in the Justice Department. The chamber said the man expressed the opinion that the Justice Department will oppose the acquisition in the Securities Exchange Commission.

The statement filed Thursday said that while the committee has not been specifically concerned with the AEP-C&SOE situation, the Justice Department official volunteered his opinions during the general presentation.

Daniel M. Galbreath and Kline L. Roberts, chairman and president, respectively, of the Columbus Area Chamber of Commerce, said in their statement that "the comments and opinions of the assistant in the Justice Department — are of concern to Columbus because we do not believe these observations relate to the facts."

Their statement said the acquisition would work to reduce utility rates, not only in Columbus, but in Cincinnati and Dayton, as well, and noted that AEP would bring an immediate annual rate reduction of $1.5 million to Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric customers.

In contrast, they said, C&SOE recently indicated it would seek a 10 per cent rate increase in Columbus.

Reducing Armed Forces

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird's surprise announcement that the Pentagon was gearing itself to a one-million-man reduction in the strength of the armed services to a new level of 2.5 million is confirmation that the administration intends to push the Nixon doctrine of reduced American involvement in foreign wars to a logical conclusion.

By proclaiming a goal of a reduction of nearly one-third in U.S. armed personnel, Washington puts the world on notice — particularly our allies in Europe and Asia — that the age of massive United States manpower contributions is over.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — One solution to the rickety financial underpinnings of many securities firms may be to "pump two or three revenue producing units through the same operational pipeline."

In other words, to merge the businesses of two or more firms, eliminating in the process as much fixed overhead and duplication as possible. It means layoffs, of course, and the closing of some fancy branch offices.

Such thinking was involved in the recently announced plans of the nation's third largest brokerage firm, Francis I. duPont, and the big investment banking firm of Glore Forgan Staats, Inc.

Archie Albright, who as president of GFS initiated talks with duPont, believes more such consolidations will be announced soon, as Wall Street reacts belatedly to a sharp drop in business.

The duPont firm, a partnership, reported an operating loss of $7.7 million last year, a figure the company says was reduced by tax recoveries. It declined comment on its present financial status.

The process already is well underway. Nearly 40 member firms of the N.Y. Stock Exchange either closed down or merged last year. The rate has accelerated this year, with 20 firms merged or closed through April.

The basic problem, as Albright sees it, is that many firms used the wild trading volume of 1968 as a base from which to project their future. They assumed there would be 15 million and 20 million share days. They planned for nothing less.

The result: overhiring, numerous branch offices, elaborate office equipment, posh furniture. The same bullish view permitted management and administrative lapses to go undetected. Poor accounting practices were common.

When trading volume slackened, the old practice of layoffs no longer was sufficient. The payroll job cut, but it was more difficult to cut down on the fixed overhead. How do you fire the computer?

Albright claims to know of what he speaks. He became president of GFS last year and within weeks had cut personnel by roughly 10 per cent. This put the firm in the black for the final three months of the year, but in Albright's view the situation remained precarious. Another 10 per cent were dropped in February.

Still unsatisfied, Albright looked for a match with another company. After at least one failure, the present plan was arranged, the intent being to complement GFS's investment capabilities with duPont's retail facilities.

A few days after the merger, another firm was added to the complex by the joining of Hirsch Co. with duPont. This means that as of July 1 the business of three firms will be supported by one streamlined administrative base.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is the most common malady of our times?

A doctor might say it was headache or head colds. A dentist would vote for tooth decay. A barber might nominate dandruff or, rather, the conditions that cause it.

But probably the most prevalent ailment that has preyed upon man in all ages and climes affects chiefly not his body but his mind. It is that disease of the human spirit known colloquially as "the blues."

You can get it from a hundred different specific causes. It can come from being broke, out of work, out of love or from just plain feeling "out of sorts" with everybody and everything. Often it merely consists of a nameless, aimless feeling of melancholy and futility—perhaps springing from an unconscious realization of how much the individual and his small dreams lie at the mercy of a vast universe indifferent to either his welfare or his fate.

But periodically it affects everyone from the child in its cradle to the old man in his wheel chair. The symptoms in most cases are these: movement dwindles, self-pity and penitence increase, and a pensive, brooding look comes upon the face as the soul stares inwardly at its own darkness.

"How do you whip the blues?" That is a question I have asked perhaps 1,000 people I have interviewed over the last quarter century. It never fails to interest them, because all have felt life-defeated at some time in their careers, no matter how hopeful or buoyant their natures.

Just what can you do to snap out of it when you're feeling low and everything is going wrong? Here are a few suggestions given me by those interviewers, some famous, some merely infamous:

Stand on your head, literally, to get a different view of things. Take a cold shower.

Walk or drive a different way home. Memorize a poem. Reread your old love letters.

Count your blessings.

Write down all the worries that are bothering you and then light a match and burn the paper, thus symbolically destroying them.

Avoid the people who bug you. Go window shopping.

Cook a new dish you've never tried before.

Buy something brightly colored you've never dared wear before.

Hike into the hills and shout your woes aloud until the echoes make you realize how insignificant they are.

Go into a park and listen to the children laugh.

Go to a zoo and feed peanuts to the elephant.

Make a game out of seeing how many hours a day you can let pass without complaining about anything or criticizing anyone.

Pour out your troubles to an old friend who is really fond of you.

Ponder the wisdom of the old saying, "This, too, will pass." Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt is one of many who found comfort in this four-word remedy.

Pray. Pray not just lying in a lonely bed at night, but in your heart at your desk, or in a dimly lit church during your lunch period.

Summed up, all these cures for the blues have one basic thought: Don't just sit there feeling sorry for yourself. Get up and do something—right now. Almost any change or action you take, within the limits of common sense, will probably make you feel better.

"All I can say about this fragrance is that it's guaranteed to separate the men from the boys."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THE LORD Chief Justice of England reckoned at the last session of the year that the major portion of his judicial hours in the court for the twelve months coming to a close was spent "Investigating collisions between soberly propelled vehicles, each on its own side of the road, each sounding its horn, each with its bright lights dutifully switched off, and each absolutely stationary."

The late Cardinal Spellman had a robust sense of humor, and dearly enjoyed exchanging gulps with the many Broadway and Hollywood stars he knew personally. On one Christmas tour of Vietnam bases, for instance, Bob Hope confessed to the Cardinal, "I was so bushed from our back-breaking itinerary yesterday that I'm afraid I fell asleep twice at your mass." "Don't let that bother you," the Cardinal assured him cheerfully. "I napped straight through your last three television shows!"

Gustave Sachs, of Albany, N.Y., has compiled these three-word homonyms for your edification:

Rain, rein, reign.
Ore, or, oar.
Cent, sent, scent.
So, sow, sew.
You, yew, ewe.
Sight, site, cite.
Road, rode, rowed.
And here's a four-timer: Right, rite, write, wright.

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is the black lung disease caused by pollution of the air? Do people who live in a mining district tend to develop this?

Mr. R.B.U., West Virginia Dear Mr. U.: The black lung disease is one of a group of lung conditions known as pneumoconiosis. This consists of abnormalities, inflammation and infection of the lung due to the constant inhalation of dust particles. People who are exposed to the fumes of iron for many years may develop siderosis. Anthracosis is caused by inhalation of coal dust that becomes deposited in the lungs.

The most dangerous is the coal miners or black lung disease which can lead to many complications. Thousands of coal miners become chronic invalids because adequate protective devices are not used against deposits of coal dust in the lungs.

Those who live in the area of coal mines must, of course, suffer from the polluted air but certainly not to the same degree as those who are actually mining coal deep in the shafts. It is shameful that so many people must spend their lives as invalids when modern technology can clear the air even in their ghastly working environment.

How can a soft diet be made nourishing?

Mrs. H.C., Maine Dear Mrs. C.: Soft diets are usually recommended to patients with stomach and intestinal disturbances or those with general weakness. Sometimes people who have no teeth and cannot chew normal food are given these easily digested, low residue, but highly nourishing diets.

Raw fruit and vegetables and coarse, whole grain cereals, spiced foods, pork, veal and very rich desserts should be avoided.

There is fine nourishment in cooked fruit, potatoes, rice, bananas, milk, cheese, puddings, custards and eggs.

Well-ground beef, fowl and fish contain all the important ingredients for a nutritious diet. A good vitamin supplement can add sufficient minerals and vitamins and furnish all the needed calories until more food is included in the diet as the patient progresses.

Is scabies a contagious skin disease?

Mr. N.K., Louisiana

Dear Mr. K.: Scabies is most certainly contagious and is highly communicable from one person to another. It is caused by a tiny insect or parasite, the sarcoptes scabiei. This small mite is frequently passed from one school child to another, and causes intense itching of the skin. Sulphur ointment is one of the most effective forms of treatment. Other drugs, too, are available. Sterilization of clothing and bed linen is essential if treatment is to be effective.

Hanoi Willing To Negotiate

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

General Thomas Lane, a sound military commentator who once taught history at West Point, has come up with a most interesting thesis that casts President Richard Nixon in the role of Br'er Fox. The thesis holds that Nixon is hesitant and defensive in speech as to mask for dedicated boldness in action when action is absolutely essential. The President pretends to be Neville Chamberlain, though he is really Winston Churchill. What he has presumably planned is to dig an elephant trap for Senator Fulbright, Senator Mansfield, Senator Goodell and the rest of the Vietnam "bug-out" crew. The Fulbright liberals, according to this thesis, will go on making silly speeches about our Cambodian operation. But — so General Lane says, sticking his neck well out — the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong will have obviously lost the war by November provided we don't lose our nerve. The Fulbright liberals will have been repudiated by events, and they will meet with disaster at the polls.

General Lane's prophetic outline assumes that neither Moscow (which has committed itself in the Middle East and is fighting an economic let-down at home) nor Peking (a capital that is still unable to cope with its endless domestic troubles) can throw enough aid into North Vietnam through the port of Haiphong to restock the Southeast Asian Communists' armory and ladder. The outline also discounts what Churchill called "the fog of war" — a phrase that acknowledges the intangibles that accompany any trial by battle. But let us assume that General Lane is correct, as he very well may be.

The North Vietnam strategists, who have kept a war going for five years on a shoestring by dint of their superior propagandistic acumen in manipulating the fears of the bourgeois world, are far from being fools. Being Marxists as well as nationalists, they know all about Lenin's advice to take "one step back" when it has become absolutely necessary to the preservation of a last-ditch sanctuary. So what will the North Vietnamese do if they see Nixon's policy of "Vietnamization" working?

What will they do if they are faced with the emergence of a "blooded" and battle-tested South Vietnamese Army? My prediction is that they will turn to the conference table in Paris, willing, for the first time, to enter serious peace negotiations that will have the result of postponing any final battlefield decision in the Indo-Chinese peninsula until after the U.S. has completed its total military withdrawal from the area.

Assuming the correctness of the General Lane prophetic outline, the Hanoi government would want to seek an armistice-type peace to prevent South Vietnamese clan from culminating in a decision to invade the North. Who knows, the Thieu-Ky regime, feeding on the red meat of military success in Cambodia, might proclaim a mission to "unify" Vietnam under Saigon auspices.

Apparently the South Vietnamese have come up with a military hero who would willingly assume the role of a General George Patton in driving for the North Vietnam capital of Hanoi or the port of Haiphong. The dashing officer is General Do Cao Tri, who reportedly combines an insipiring willingness to lead a charge from the top of an armored car with a good offensive tactical sense. Do Cao Tri was nothing very much when he was limited to a defensive role in the Third Corps zone north of Saigon. Before that he had eaten his heart out in exile in the South Vietnamese diplomatic service.

However, his background has always been one of a man whose sound military training has prepared him for an emergency. He joined the French Army in Vietnam as a young man to fight the Communists. He studied infantry and airborne tactics in France in 1947. He is a graduate of the South Vietnamese officers' school in Vungtau.

Nixon's trump card, assuming the validity of the General Lane thesis, would be to inform the North Vietnamese negotiators that he will have no control over the Thieu-Ky government once the U.S. has departed from Southeast Asia. If we win a decisive edge over Hanoi through our Cambodian operation, the North Vietnamese might want to make a deal before we have lifted our restraining hand from the likes of General Do Cao Tri.

Dear Editor:

I would like to comment on our cab service here in Circleville. I can't understand why a city the size of Circleville can't have a more reliable and dependable public transportation service. I have waited for as long as one and a half hours for a cab and on Sunday there is no public transportation at all.

Can't we do something to improve our public means of getting around in good old Roundtown?

Dear Editor:

What went wrong with "Project Involvement?" When the public was asked to write to this column in expression of its views on current events, I didn't expect the response to be so myopic, limited and of so short a duration.

I have long been aware that the average American sees only what he wants to see and is quite prone to the habit of passing the buck.

Communism seems to be a handy peg on which to hang the many ills that plague our society — ills which we can only impute to ourselves. And without a doubt such makes those who embrace the communist philosophy very happy. And without a doubt the longer we continue to do so, the closer we will come to that cataclysmic day when we will find ourselves lying helplessly in the palms of that atheistic philosophy.

It is said that the communistic intent is to overthrow this nation by bringing influence to bear on its youth. I do not doubt that such efforts are being made. But if they are successful, and the consensus of opinion is that they are, then it must also be admitted that our offspring are easily influenced.

And that becomes a sad commentary on the way we rear our children and the examples we set for them.

Reducing Armed Forces

Defense Secretary Melvin Laird's surprise announcement that the Pentagon was gearing itself to a one-million-man reduction in the strength of the armed services to a new level of 2.5 million is confirmation that the administration intends to push the Nixon doctrine of reduced American involvement in foreign wars to a logical conclusion.

By proclaiming a goal of a reduction of nearly one-third in U.S. armed personnel, Washington puts the world on notice — particularly our allies in Europe and Asia — that the age of massive United States manpower contributions is over.

The Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — One solution to the rickety financial underpinnings of many securities firms may be to "pump two or three revenue producing units through the same operational pipeline."

In other words, to merge the businesses of two or more firms, eliminating in the process as much fixed overhead and duplication as possible. It means layoffs, of course, and the closing of some fancy branch offices.

Such thinking was involved in the recently announced plans of the nation's third largest brokerage firm, Francis I. DuPont, and the big investment banking firm of Glore Forgan Staats, Inc.

Archie Albright, who as president of GFS initiated talks with DuPont, believes more such consolidations will be announced soon, as Wall Street reacts belatedly to a sharp drop in business.

The DuPont firm, a partnership, reported an operating loss of $7.7 million last year, a figure the company says was reduced by tax recoveries. It declined comment on its present financial status.

The process already is well underway. Nearly 40 member firms of the N.Y. Stock Exchange either closed down or merged last year. The rate has accelerated this year, with 20 firms merged or closed through April.

The basic problem, as Albright sees it, is that many firms used the wild trading volume of 1968 as a base from which to project their future. They assumed there would be 15 million and 20 million share days. They planned for nothing less.

The result: overhiring, numerous branch offices, elaborate office equipment, posh furniture. The same bullish view permitted management and administrative lapses to go undetected. Poor accounting practices were common.

When trading volume slackened, the old practice of layoffs no longer was sufficient. The payroll job cut, but it was more difficult to cut down on the fixed overhead. How do you fire the computer?

Albright claims to know of what he speaks. He became president of GFS last year and within weeks had cut personnel by roughly 10 per cent. This put the firm in the black for the final three months of the year, but in Albright's view the situation remained precarious. Another 10 per cent were dropped in February.

Still unsatisfied, Albright looked for a match with another company. After at least one failure, the present plan was arranged, the intent being to complement GFS's investment capabilities with DuPont's retail facilities.

A few days after the merger, another firm was added to the complex by the joining of Hirsch Co. with DuPont. This means that as of July 1 the business of three firms will be supported by one streamlined administrative base.

was spent "Investigating collisions between soberly propelled vehicles, each on its own side of the road, each sounding its horn, each with its bright lights dutifully switched off, and each absolutely stationary."

The late Cardinal Spellman had a robust sense of humor, and dearly enjoyed exchanging quips with the many Broadway and Hollywood stars he knew personally. On one Christmas tour of Vietnam bases, for instance, Bob Hope confessed to the Cardinal, "I was so bushed from our back-breaking itinerary yesterday that I'm afraid I fell asleep twice at your mass." "Don't let that bother you," the Cardinal assured him cheerfully. "I napped straight through your last three television shows!"

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is the black lung disease caused by pollution of the air? Do people who live in a mining district tend to develop this?

Mr. R.B.U., West Virginia Dear Mr. U.: The black lung disease is one of a group of lung conditions known as pneumoconioses. This consists of abnormalities, inflammation and infection of the lung due to the constant inhalation of dust particles. People who are exposed to the fumes of iron for many years may develop siderosis. Anthracosis is caused by inhalation of coal dust that becomes deposited in the lungs.

The most dangerous is the coal miners or black lung disease which can lead to many complications. Thousands of coal miners become chronic invalids because adequate protective devices are not used against deposits of coal dust in the lungs.

Those who live in the area of coal mines must, of course, suffer from the polluted air but certainly not to the same degree as those who are actually mining coal deep in the shafts.

It is shameful that so many people must spend their lives as invalids when modern technology can clear the air even in their ghastly working environment.

How can a soft diet be made nourishing?

Mrs. H.C., Maine Dear Mrs. C.: Soft diets are usually recommended to patients with stomach and intestinal disturbances or those with general weakness. Sometimes people who have no teeth and cannot chew normal food are given these easily digested, low residue, but highly nourishing diets.

Raw fruit and vegetables and coarse, whole grain cereals, spiced foods, pork, veal and very rich desserts should be avoided.

There is fine nourishment in cooked fruit, potatoes, rice, bananas, milk, cheese, puddings, custards and eggs. Well-ground beef, fowl and fish contain all the important ingredients for a nutritious diet.

A good vitamin supplement can add sufficient minerals and vitamins and furnish all the needed calories until more food is included in the diet as the patient progresses.

Is scabies a contagious skin disease?

Mr. N.K., Louisiana

Dear Mr. K.: Scabies is most certainly contagious and is highly communicable from one person to another. It is caused by a tiny insect or parasite, the sarcoptes scabiei. This small mite is frequently passed from one school child to another, and causes intense itching of the skin. Sulphur ointment is one of the most effective forms of treatment. Other drugs, too, are available. Sterilization of clothing and bed linen is essential if treatment is to be effective.

Hanoi Willing To Negotiate

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

General Thomas Lane, a sound military commentator who once taught history at West Point, has come up with a most interesting thesis that casts President Richard Nixon in the role of Br'er Fox. The thesis holds that Nixon is hesitant and defensive in speech as to mask for dedicated boldness in action when action is absolutely essential. The President pretends to be Neville Chamberlain, though he is really Winston Churchill. What he is presumably planned is to dig an elephant trap for Senator Fulbright, Senator Mansfield, Senator Goodell and the rest of the Vietnam "bug-out" crew. The Fulbright liberals, according to this thesis, will go on making silly speeches about our Cambodian operation. But — so General Lane says, sticking his neck well out — the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong will have obviously lost the war by November provided we don't lose our nerve. The Fulbright liberals will have been repudiated by events, and they will meet with disaster at the polls.

General Lane's prophetic outline assumes that neither Moscow (which has committed itself in the Middle East and is fighting an economic let-down at home) nor Peking (a capital that is still unable to cope with its endless domestic troubles) can throw enough aid into North Vietnam through the port of Haiphong to restock the Southeast Asian Communists' armory and larder. The outline also discounts what Churchill called "the fog of war" — a phrase that acknowledges the intangibles that accompany any trial by battle. But let us assume that General Lane is correct, as he very well may be.

The North Vietnamese strategists, who have kept a war going for five years on a shoestring by dint of their superior propagandistic acumen in manipulating the fears of the bourgeois world, are far from being fools. Being Marxists as well as nationalists, they know all about Lenin's advice to take "one step back" when it has become absolutely necessary to the preservation of a last-ditch sanctuary. So what will the North Vietnamese do if they see Nixon's policy of "Vietnamization" working?

What will they do if they are faced with the emergence of a "blooded" and battle-tested South Vietnamese Army? My prediction is that they will turn to the conference table in Paris, willing, for the first time, to enter serious peace negotiations that will have the result of postponing any final battlefield decision in the Indo-Chinese peninsula until after the U.S. has completed its total military withdrawal from the area.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Thomas Anderson, 17, faces death in the electric chair as a result of his conviction Thursday night in the slaying of an auxiliary policeman.

A jury deliberated about eight hours before returning the first-degree murder verdict. The jury did not recommend mercy, making the death sentence mandatory.

Common Pleas Judge George Marshall will set Anderson's execution date Friday.

The victim, Sgt. Lawrence Kipfinger, 45, was killed Oct. 13, 1969 during a dairy store holdup.

Anderson's alleged accomplice, Amos P. Henderson, 18, was convicted of first-degree murder in March. He was sentenced to life in the Ohio Penitentiary.

Herbert Keeps To Himself Since Loan Scandal Broke

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

John Herbert, the once friendly state treasurer, has gone into virtual seclusion as far as the news media is concerned since the state investment scandal, most of it centered in his office, broke into print.

Herbert has been especially bitter over the way some of his own colleagues acted. He expected them to defend him. Instead they were the first to criticize.

Now Herbert is bitter. His door, once always open to newsmen, is closed. Even his aides can't get information sought on minor matters.

When they ask him questions put to them by newsmen, Herbert replies sarcastically.

Herbert's chief political ambition has been to someday be governor. Most of his friends feel the dream is rapidly fading.

Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, got the biggest chuckle of all out of reports he would be asked to replace Auditor Roger Cloud as Republican candidate for governor on the upcoming ticket.

"It has to be a joke," Saxbe said.

Rep. David Weissert, a Norwich Republican, says there wouldn't be so many teen-agers in trouble if they had more recreational facilities.

He has suggested the Ohio

Jaycees undertake the planning and construction of such facilities in each of the state's counties.

He also has asked Gov. James A. Rhodes to appoint a commission to work with the Jaycees on the project.

John McElroy, chief aide to Gov. James A. Rhodes, said he has been getting unhappy letters from parents of Ohio University students graduating this year.

The school, which closed because of campus rioting, has cancelled commencement exercises.

Many of the parents, McElroy noted, are sending their first child through college and are hurt that they won't be able to witness the culmination of it all.

At Kent, where Kent State University will reopen Saturday for commencement, the mood of the town has been described as "tense."

"They're afraid," said State Sen. Robert Stockdale, a Kent State professor. He said the townspeople really didn't want the outside attention commencement will bring.

Four students died May 4 at Kent State in a confrontation with National Guardsmen. The school has been closed since.

Essex Is Pushed For Washington Education Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The superintendent of Ohio's department of education, Martin W. Essex, has again received the recommendation of two House Education Committee leaders for appointment as commissioner of education.

Reps. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio and Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., recommended Essex Thursday in a letter to Elliot L. Richardson, President Nixon's nominee for secretary of health, education and welfare.

The Nixon administration fired James E. Allen Jr. Thursday. He had been education commissioner for the past year.

"We recommended Martin before and advised they (the administration) were making a mistake in choosing Allen," Ayres wrote, adding that Essex is "very well qualified and has proved himself a good administrator ... a contrast to the man just fired."

Former Mayor Dies

RUSSELLS POINT, Ohio (AP)—Gene Gooding, 45, former mayor of this Indian Lake resort town in Logan County, died of an apparent heart attack Wednesday soon after he was admitted to Mary Rutan Hospital in Bellefontaine. He had been released from the hospital Monday after suffering a heart attack. He was a World War II veteran.

URANUS, five times sharper than the best photos so far, says the National Science Foundation. The photo was made via a 36-inch telescope held at 80,000 feet by balloon launched at Palestine, Tex., in March. Scientists hope to discover if the planet has surface features unobscured by clouds.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Thomas Anderson, 17, faces death in the electric chair as a result of his conviction Thursday night in the slaying of an auxiliary policeman.

A jury deliberated about eight hours before returning the first-degree murder verdict. The jury did not recommend mercy, making the death sentence mandatory.

Common Pleas Judge George Marshall will set Anderson's execution date Friday.

The victim, Sgt. Lawrence Kipfinger, 45, was killed Oct. 13, 1969 during a dairy store holdup.

Anderson's alleged accomplice, Amos P. Henderson, 18, was convicted of first-degree murder in March. He was sentenced to life in the Ohio Penitentiary.

Editor At Toledo Becomes Professor

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—James G. MacDonald, editor of the Toledo Blade since 1963, will leave the paper to become an assistant professor of journalism at Ohio State University in the fall, the newspaper announced Thursday.

MacDonald was a faculty member of the University of Michigan journalism department from 1951 until he joined the Blade in 1959 as an editorial writer.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

John Herbert, the once friendly state treasurer, has gone in to virtual seclusion as far as the news media is concerned since the state investment scandal, most of it centered in his office, broke into print.

Herbert has been especially bitter over the way some of his own colleagues acted. He expected them to defend him. Instead they were the first to criticize.

Now Herbert is bitter. His door, once always open to newsmen, is closed. Even his aides can't get information sought on minor matters.

When they ask him questions put to them by newsmen, Herbert replies sarcastically.

Herbert's chief political ambition has been to someday be governor. Most of his friends feel the dream is rapidly fading.

Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, got the biggest chuckle of all out of reports he would be asked to replace Auditor Roger Cloud as Republican candidate for governor on the upcoming ticket.

"It has to be a joke," Saxbe said.

Rep. David Weissert, a New-rich Republican, says there wouldn't be so many teenagers in trouble if they had more recreational facilities.

He has suggested the Ohio

Jaycees undertake the planning and construction of such facilities in each of the state's counties.

He also has asked Gov. James A. Rhodes to appoint a commission to work with the Jaycees on the project.

John McElroy, chief aide to Gov. James A. Rhodes, said he has been getting unhappy letters from parents of Ohio University students graduating this year.

The school, which closed because of campus rioting, has cancelled commencement exercises.

Many of the parents, McElroy noted, are sending their child through college and are hurt that they won't be able to witness the culmination of it all.

At Kent, where Kent State University will reopen Saturday for commencement, the mood of the town has been described as "tense."

"They're afraid," said State Sen. Robert Stockdale, a Kent State professor. He said the townspeople really didn't want the outside attention commencement will bring.

Four students died May 4 at Kent State in a confrontation with National Guardsmen. The school has been closed since.

Essex Is Pushed For Washington Education Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — The superintendent of Ohio's department of education, Martin W. Essex, has again received the recommendation of two House Education Committee leaders for appointment as commissioner of education.

Reps. William H. Ayres, R-Ohio and Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., recommended Essex Thursday in a letter to Elliot L. Richardson, President Nixon's nominee for secretary of health, education and welfare.

The Nixon administration fired James E. Allen Jr. Thursday. He had been education commissioner for the past year.

"We recommended Martin before and advised they (the administration) were making a mistake in choosing Allen," Ayres wrote, adding that Essex is "very well qualified and has proved himself a good administrator ... a contrast to the man just fired."

The Garden Corner

June is the month to sow seed of perennials and biennials for next year's bloom.

Cuttings of ivy, euonymus and pachysandra can be made in late June.

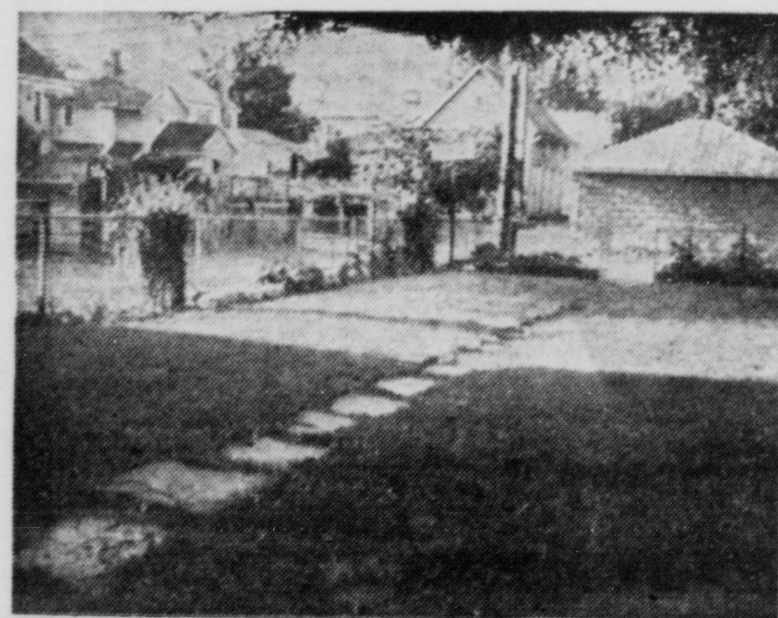

Now is the time to mow, trim, prune, weed, manicure and spray.

Common lawn pests are grubs, cinch bugs and sod webworm. For grubs use aldrin, chlordane, dieldrin or heptachlor. Soil will be grub proofed for as long as 10 years. To control cinch bugs use Trithion, Ethion, Zytron or Sevin. Apply about mid-June, repeat mid-August. To rid the lawn of sod webworm use Ethion, Sevin or Di-syston.

Watch for crabgrass. Use crabgrass rake for spots, chemicals for heavy infestation. DMA or AMA. Several applications a week apart may be necessary.

Fill empty spots in perennial bed with annuals. Finish all mulching during June.

BORDER GARDEN — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Stevenson, 152 Pinckney St., have planted both flowers and vegetables around the yard at the back of their home. The effect is striking. Included in the plantings are tomatoes, with one almost ready to be picked; onions, dill, kale, lettuce, pampas grass, parsley, green beans, potatoes, peppers, mangoes, dahlias, sage, mint, radishes, cannas, snapdragons and wild roses.

PROPER SITE — Dating back to the 1870's are two stones which topped pillars at the front of the Pickaway County Courthouse before remodeling. The huge stones were donated to the Clarke-May Museum by Miss Mary Heffner, 154 E. Mound St., and Mrs. D. E. Hickey and Clark Hunsicker Jr. The stones had been used as mounting stones to mount a horse and alight or step into a carriage. Each had been drilled and an iron ring embedded for tying a horse. Two matching stones and a pillar from the courthouse form part of the monument to Civil War veterans at the entrance of Forest Cemetery.

Tire Company Will Pay Fine For Bad Tires

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Transportation said Thursday Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co. of Mansfield, Ohio, has agreed to pay a $7,500 settlement for manufacturing tires which failed to meet federal standards.

Tests conducted for the National Highway Safety Bureau revealed that nine of the 50 tires tested from the company's premium line failed to meet the standards.

About 500 allegedly unsafe tires were produced in the first three months of last year and Mansfield has agreed to recall 492 of them.

A company spokesman said late Thursday, "the company contends there was no safety hazard in the 492 tires involved and believes that no civil penalty should have been considered. However, we have agreed to the compromise settlement because of the heavy costs of court litigation in matters such as this."

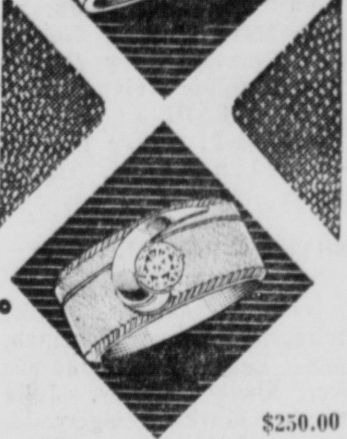

Electrical Outlets Made Safer

Househunting families with small children should make sure that electrical outlets in the nursery or children's rooms are controlled by an out-of-reach switch.

This advice is offered by the American Wood Council to help families get the most home for the money. Small hands have a way of investigating dangerous places such as night light outlets. If the home builder has included electrical safeguards in a house it's a good sign he has used similar care in the construction of the rest of the home.

Tire Company Will Pay Fine For Bad Tires

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Transportation said Thursday Mansfield Tire & Rubber Co. of Mansfield, Ohio, has agreed to pay a $7,500 settlement for manufacturing tires which failed to meet federal standards.

Tests conducted for the National Highway Safety Bureau revealed that nine of the 50 tires tested from the company's premium line failed to meet the standards. About 500 allegedly unsafe tires were produced in the first three months of last year and Mansfield has agreed to recall 492 of them.

A company spokesman said late Thursday, "the company contends there was no safety hazard in the 492 tires involved and believes that no civil penalty should have been considered. However, we have agreed to the compromise settlement because of the heavy costs of court litigation in matters such as this."

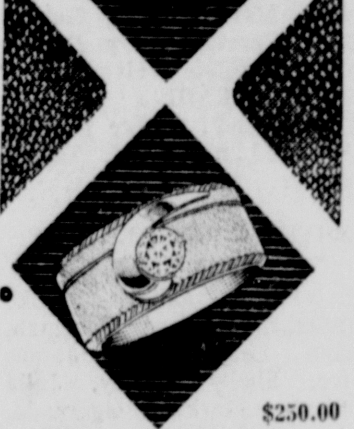

Electrical Outlets Made Safer

Househunting families with small children should make sure that electrical outlets in the nursery or children's rooms are controlled by an out-of-reach switch.

This advice is offered by the American Wood Council to help families get the most home for the money. Small hands have a way of investigating dangerous places such as night light outlets. If the home builder has included electrical safeguards in a house it's a good sign he has used similar care in the construction of the rest of the home.

BORDER GARDEN — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn L. Stevenson, 152 Pinckey St., have planted both flowers and vegetables around the yard at the back of their home. The effect is striking. Included in the plantings are tomatoes, with one almost ready to be picked; onions, dill, kale, lettuce, pampas grass, parsley, green beans, potatoes, peppers, mangoes, dahlias, sage, mint, radishes, cannas, snapdragons and wild roses.

PROPER SITE — Dating back to the 1870's are two stones which topped pillars at the front of the Pickaway County Courthouse before remodeling. The huge stones were donated to the Clarke-May Museum by Miss Mary Heffner, 154 E. Mound St., and Mrs. D. E. Hickey and Clark Hunsicker Jr. The stones had been used as mounting stones to mount a horse and alight or step into a carriage. Each had been drilled and an iron ring embedded for tying a horse. Two matching stones and a pillar from the courthouse form part of the monument to Civil War veterans at the entrance of Forest Cemetery.

Youngsters Paint School In Inner City

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Roosevelt Elementary School is small, 45 years old and due to be abandoned in 1975. The school district, therefore, has given it only minimum maintenance.

The classrooms looked worn and shabby—until the kids took paint brushes in hand and started swinging.

Now you can color it the brightest school in town.

Its 13 classrooms and the exterior too are being daubed with fresh paint in a do-it-yourself project involving the 490 students, their teachers and many of their parents.

Roosevelt school is in the inner city area of this community of 200,000. An estimated 75 per cent of its pupils are Mexican-American and 10 per cent Negro.

"The teachers and I sat down together to discuss how to get parents involved," says Principal Don Tibbets. "We had been having a hard time getting a parents organization started, and we figured one way would be to paint the school. It's been 12 years since the last job."

"The idea caught on with everyone. It quickly spread from school to homes. The kids find it fun. Many have never painted before. Most live in rented homes. Suddenly parents who had never been inside the school started coming in to help."

A bunch of first-graders began the job. They scraped and sanded with such vigor they rubbed holes in the plaster, and at one point went through a molding into a nest of termites.

Columbus To Bill State For OSU Cost

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The city of Columbus will bill the state emergency board for $230,000 it spent to handle student disturbances at Ohio State University last month.

State Finance Director Howard Collier earlier rejected the city's claim for reimbursement. But City Finance Director Joseph Houston said Collier made the decision without consulting the emergency board.

Making vacation plans? Planning for that One Big Trip? The library has many lovely and exciting travel books.

One of the most comprehensive is "Terry's Guide to the Caribbean" by Wesley Edson. It is blurbled, "The most complete guidebook on this area published." Included are all the islands, fifty-seven in all, and each is discussed separately.

There is a good deal of general information also, about costs, credit cards, customs, pets, luggage, clothing, means of transportation and travel agencies. Mr. Edson has included a good bibliography which lists information on everything from sea shells to pirates. At the end of his book (over 650 pages) there are descriptions and rates of hotels and guest houses. All of this data is up-to-date and was personally researched. Mr. Edson gives his own mailing address, so interested readers may write to him.

If you want to read about exotic places, "Once Around Lightly" by Robert St. John is the one for you. Mr. and Mrs. St. John, both sophisticated travelers of long experience, decided to visit only places which neither had seen. They were at the Kayber Pass, Jaipur,akarta, Bangkok, Taipei and other spots whose names most of us know only from poetry. Robert St. John is a journalist, and he writes at a fast, witty pace, vividly picturing foreign scenes.

Iika Chase, a favorite with all women, has written several books about her trips. "Fresh From the Laundry" relates her visit to the Balkans in her own, inimitable style.

Englishman H. V. Morton, author of many excellent travel books, describes an auto tour in "A Traveler in Southern Italy." He has a large following, as his "In the Steps of St. Paul" and "Call of England" have long been popular.

Lowell Thomas, who undoubtedly has covered more miles than any contemporary man, wrote about and photographed the mountains of the world. "Lowell Thomas' Book of the High Mountains" is excitingly illustrated. Mountain-climbing, anyone?

Penn Central Hearings Move

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission hearings on Penn Central's request to end passenger service on 34 East-West trains moves to Marion next Friday.

Hearings here Thursday followed the same pattern as earlier sessions elsewhere, with opponents charging the railroad with intentionally downgrading service to force a decline in passengers and the company replying that it has to end passenger service to avoid continuing financial losses.

The ICC has scheduled 40 hearings in 38 cities along the routes of the trains the railroad wants to eliminate. A decision is expected about Oct. 1.

Ohio Solons Sign Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Legislature met Thursday for leaders to formally sign bills passed before it adjourned early last Saturday.

One of the key bills to be signed was the campus disorder legislation, an issue that delayed adjournment of the general Assembly last week.

The House met at 9 a.m. with only Speaker Charles Kurfess, R-4 Bowling Green, and Rep. Roger Tracy, R-60 Columbus, in attendance.

Both houses will return June 26 to act on any possible vetoes by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Other bills to be signed include ones that:

—Make possession of marijuana for a first time offender a misdemeanor. It is now a felony.

—Increase investigatory powers of the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and investigation.

—Set a two-year moratorium on gas and oil drilling on Ohio's shoreline of Lake Erie.

—License pesticide users.

LOOKING FOR GOD

Some say you find God just as well in a garden, in the woods, or on a golf course as in a church — that God is everywhere. But be honest about it.

Are you not more apt to think of weeds, or mosquitoes, or a poor shot than you are of God? And after all, you have made this outing to seek pleasure.

But when you go to church, it is with the specific intention of worshipping. Here you engage in prayer, praise and thanksgiving. Here you mingle with people who are seeking God and have come to feel His presence. In the quiet beauty of a church you find few outside distractions, and you know that this place is dedicated to the service of God.

For peace and happiness which comes from really feeling God's presence, worship in the house of the Lord this Sunday — make it a regular practice.

LOOKING FOR GOD

Some say you find God just as well in a garden, in the woods, or on a golf course as in a church — that God is everywhere. But be honest about it.

Are you not more apt to think of weeds, or mosquitoes, or a poor shot than you are of God? And after all, you have made this outing to seek pleasure.

But when you go to church, it is with the specific intention of worshipping. Here you engage in prayer, praise and thanksgiving. Here you mingle with people who are seeking God and have come to feel His presence. In the quiet beauty of a church you find few outside distractions, and you know that this place is dedicated to the service of God.

For peace and happiness which comes from really feeling God's presence, worship in the house of the Lord this Sunday — make it a regular practice.

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING CONDUCT DURING PUBLIC SERVICES IN CHURCH

Scripture—I Corinthians 11, 14.

By R. H. RAMSEY

WHEN he left Athens, Paul and his companions journeyed to Corinth where Silas and Timothy, who had been in Berea, joined him. After a year and a half in Corinth, Paul returned to Jerusalem and Antioch, ending his second missionary journey.

On his third journey, Paul stayed at Ephesus, across the Aegean Sea, to the east of Corinth. There, periodically, news of troubles within the Corinthian church reached him and he attempted to solve them through his letters to that church.

In the opening verses of I Corinthians 11, Paul concerns himself with instructions regarding women's attire and hair styles; women's hair should be long, men's short; women coming into church should cover their heads, men's heads should be uncovered, etc.

From these matters of decorum in the house of God, Paul turns to a more serious matter, that of decorum at the observance of the Lord's Supper, for not only were there dissident factions within the Corinthian

The broken bread symbolizes His body, bruised and wounded for man's salvation, and of our union and communion with Him. The cup is the sign of the covenant guaranteeing His willingness to shed His blood for the sins of His people.

There is no indication as to the frequency of the Supper, but it is clear that in asking His followers to partake of the Supper, Jesus asked for more than just an infrequent remembrance. Paul adds his own interpretation of this to be "until he come."

After giving instruction for the proper observance of the Lord's Supper, Paul turns to the sin and consequences of partaking of the sacrament unworthily. Those who come to the Lord's table in a careless or irreverent manner, without the intention or desire to commemorate the death of Christ as the sacrifice for our sins, are unworthy and guilty of the body and blood of Christ. Therefore, we must examine our selves, our motives and thoughts before coming to the table, and then approach it in love, fellowship and reverence.

GOLDEN TEXT

"Let all things be done decently and in order."—I Corinthians 14:40.

church, but abuses of the Lord's Supper were occurring as well.

Instead of being united in worship, the Corinthians were broken up into little groups of contention and conflict. While some were willing to share their provisions among those of their own set, they were unwilling to share with those of a lesser social standing or with those who had few or no provisions to bring to the church services which apparently concluded with an observance of the Lord's Supper. To compound their disrespect for the Lord's Supper, some were actually coming to the Lord's table drunk.

While Paul was not among those present at the first Lord's Supper, he had received special revelation from the Lord regarding it. He reminded the Corinthians that it had occurred the night before He was betrayed and its significance lies in its association with the death of Jesus and the anticipation of His return as King of Kings. This fact alone gives a peculiar solemnity and introspection to the ceremony.

Relief Operations Speed Up In Devastated Areas Of Peru

ANTA, Peru (AP) — Earthquake relief operations were slow getting started, but they are moving along now, and a dirt strip at this village in the Huaylas Canyon has become the busiest airport in South America.

From dawn to dusk every day, planes haul food, medicine and other supplies into the canyon from Lima and the port city of Chimbote. They fly out with survivors—injured or unhurt—of the May 31 quake, which killed 50,000 persons. Juan Cardinal Landazuri-Ricketts flew to Anta Wednesday to see the relief operation and to comfort the survivors. Officials said his visit was "worth a ton of medicine."

Peruvian authorities reported the third loss of an aircraft in a week of relief flights. The National Information Office said a Peruvian air force helicopter crashed near the town of Cajacay and three persons aboard were killed.

Earlier in the day, an Argentine Fokker F27 with seven persons aboard was reported missing en route from Lima to Anta. Last Saturday an American helicopter flying into the canyon was smashed against a hillside by a strong downdraft. The two crewmen and nine passengers were not injured, but the helicopter was destroyed.

One of the big twin-rotor Chinook helicopters sent from the United States made its first flight into the canyon Wednesday, hauling in relief supplies and carrying out stretcher cases to Lima.

Also participating in the airlift are U.S. Air Force C123 transports, Canadian twin-engine Caribou transports, Peruvian air force DC3s a number of single-engine planes, and helicopters from Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Peru and the United States.

Teams of U.S. Army engineers are in the valley looking for places to open up more air strips. They built one strip

Wednesday by patching up a piece of highway just outside Carhuaz.

Luis Rivera, an employee of the national electric company, worked on the power line to Carhuaz.

"I think by tomorrow we'll have light in the plaza and the hospital," he said.

"I cannot tell you enough how much we appreciate what you Americans are doing," he added.

Rivera and his family were at their home at Huaraz when the quake hit. A daughter was buried and died in the rubble.

"I was half buried," said Rivera, "but happily it was not my time to see St. Peter."

By R. H. RAMSEY

WHEN he left Athens, Paul and his companions journeyed to Corinth where Silas and Timothy, who had been in Berea, joined him. After a year and a half in Corinth, Paul returned to Jerusalem and Antioch, ending his second missionary journey.

On his third journey, Paul stayed at Ephesus, across the Aegean Sea, to the east of Corinth. There, periodically, news of troubles within the Corinthian church reached him and he attempted to solve them through his letters to that church.

In the opening verses of I Corinthians 11, Paul concerns himself with instructions regarding women's attire and hair styles; men's hair should be long, men's short; women coming into church should cover their heads, men's heads should be uncovered, etc.

From these matters of decorum in the house of God, Paul turns to a more serious matter, that of decorum at the observance of the Lord's Supper, for not only were there dissident factions within the Corinthian

The broken bread symbolizes His body, bruised and wounded for man's salvation, and of our union and communion with Him. The cup is the sign of the covenant guaranteeing His willingness to shed His blood for the sins of His people.

There is no indication as to the frequency of the Supper, but it is clear that in asking His followers to partake of the Supper, Jesus asked for more than just an infrequent remembrance. Paul adds his own interpretation of this to be "until he come."

After giving instruction for the proper observance of the Lord's Supper, Paul turns to the sin and consequences of partaking of the sacrament unworthily. Those who come to the Lord's table in a careless or irreverent manner, without the intention or desire to commemorate the death of Christ as the sacrifice for our sins, are unworthy and guilty of the body and blood of Christ. Therefore, we must examine our selves, our motives and thoughts before coming to the table, and then approach it in love, fellowship and reverence.

church, but abuses of the Lord's Supper were occurring as well.

Instead of being united in worship, the Corinthians were broken up into little groups of contention and conflict. While some were willing to share their provisions among those of their own set, they were unwilling to share with those of a lesser social standing or with those who had few or no provisions to bring to the church services which apparently concluded with an observance of the Lord's Supper. To compound their disrespect for the Lord's Supper, some were actually coming to the Lord's table drunk.

While Paul was not among those present at the first Lord's Supper, he had received special revelation from the Lord regarding it. He reminded the Corinthians that it had occurred the night before He was betrayed and its significance lies in its association with the death of Jesus and the anticipation of His return as King of Kings. This fact alone gives a peculiar solemnity and introspection to the ceremony.

Relief Operations Speed Up In Devastated Areas Of Peru

ANTA, Peru (AP) — Earthquake relief operations were slow getting started, but they are moving along now, and a dirt strip at this village in the Huaylas Canyon has become the busiest airport in South America.

From dawn to dusk every day, planes haul food, medicine and other supplies into the canyon from Lima and the port city of Chimbote. They fly out with survivors—injured or unhurt—of the May 31 quake, which killed 50,000 persons.

Juan Cardinal Landazuri Ricketts flew to Anta Wednesday to see the relief operation and to comfort the survivors. Officials said his visit was "worth a ton of medicine." Peruvian authorities reported the third loss of an aircraft in a week of relief flights. The National Information Office said a Peruvian air force helicopter crashed near the town of Cajacay and three persons aboard were killed.

Earlier in the day, an Argentine Fokker F27 with seven persons aboard was reported missing en route from Lima to Anta. Last Saturday an American helicopter flying into the canyon was smashed against a hillside by a strong downdraft. The two crewmen and nine passengers were not injured, but the helicopter was destroyed. One of the big twin-rotor Chinook helicopters sent from the United States made its first flight into the canyon Wednesday, hauling in relief supplies and carrying out stretcher cases to Lima.

Also participating in the airlift are U.S. Air Force C123 transports, Canadian twin-engine Caribou transports, Peruvian air force DC3s a number of single-engine planes, and helicopters from Brazil, Chile, Argentina, Peru and the United States.

Teams of U.S. Army engineers are in the valley looking for places to open up more airstrips. They built one strip

Wednesday by patching up a piece of highway just outside Carhuaz.

Luis Rivera, an employee of the national electric company, worked on the power line to Carhuaz.

"I think by tomorrow we'll have light in the plaza and the hospital," he said.

"I cannot tell you enough how much we appreciate what you Americans are doing," he added.

Rivera and his family were at their home at Huaraz when the quake hit. A daughter was buried and died in the rubble.

"I was half buried," said Rivera, "but happily it was not my time to see St. Peter."

NEW YORK (AP) — Ray Stevens, a quiet and unassuming young man from Nashville, will become the star of his own television series at a time when his record, "Everything is Beautiful," is hitting the top of the best-seller charts.

He will be launched June 20 as Andy Williams' summer replacement on NBC and will appear on eight programs and two repeats called "Andy Williams Presents the Ray Stevens Show."

The double question marks of the title—"There are supposed to be three," said Ray—are an inside joke. When Williams and associates told NBC executives their summer plans, the first question was, "Who is Ray Stevens?"

"They also brought a sack of mail sent to me," Ray said. "I am told that after Andy and after his bear, I was getting the most mail."

Stevens appeared as a guest on six of Andy's shows during the past season and is so tangled in Williams' business that he almost qualifies as an adopted brother.

Not yet 30, Stevens majored in music at Georgia State and earned part of his keep by playing piano. This expanded into a popular combo and his comedy was sharpened by filling time between the dance numbers.

"I moved to Nashville in 1962," Stevens said, "and was making good money from my own records, arranging for others, producing records and playing piano for other performers."

Andy's brother who manages musical talent, went on a scouting trip to Nashville. Don became Ray's manager and a little over a year later Ray was booked on Andy's show. Stevens best-selling records are turned out by Williams' recording company.

The summer series was taped during five hectic weeks in Toronto. Since even Andy's bear is on vacation, Ray has his own company including Mama Cass and the British singer Lulu.

His first hit was "Ahab the Arab," a comedy piece, but Stevens' moods as composer and performer are many. Currently he is concerned with recording a new piece for which he has high hopes.

"Somebody said—and I'd been thinking—that what this country needs is a patriotic song that is hip enough to be accepted by the record buyers and become established as a hit," he said.

"I figure I'm about average in everything from politics to morals, so I've written about patriotism, seen through the eyes of a guy who is neither Jerry Rubin nor George Wallace, I'm just saying let's get together and take the same path down the middle and get the problems solved. I hope it means what 'God Bless America' meant when it came out."

Dear Abby: Patient's Friend Lied To Doctor

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your answer to "STEADY READER." You gave this meddling woman the go-ahead to call her dear friend's doctor and offer him "information" about his patient.

I think this is very sneaky. I, too, had a "dear friend" who called my psychiatrist and told him things about me she thought he ought to know. (This was all done "for my own good," of course.)

It wasn't necessary, however, because I had always been completely honest with my psychiatrist. Well, he chose to believe her lies instead of my truth and now I no longer have a psychiatrist OR a friend.

I wouldn't set foot in another psychiatrist's office if you paid me. And as for a doctor who would take the word of a third party in preference to the person he is treating — let him send HER the bill.

Maders Promote Wearing Of American Flag Pins

Wearing an American flag pin stirred a nation-wide controversy when New York policeman, Patrick Dolan, defied a superior's order to remove it.

Officer Dolan won a reversal of the order, and shortly thereafter he received a personal letter of congratulations and appreciation from President Nixon.

Lincoln and Jack Mader, owners of Mader Funeral Home in Circleville, state that this controversy may have been the start of a new trend. Citizens across the land, they say, are beginning to wear pins of the

Andrews Can't Shake Turner From Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State GOP Chairman John S. Andrews lunched Thursday with Sen. Robin Turner, but failed to shake the Marion Republican's resolve to remain on the November ballot.

Turner is involved in a campaign contribution scandal along with Treasurer John D. Herbert. The GOP State Central and Executive Committee has asked both to withdraw from the general election.

Andrews is expected to meet later with Herbert in an effort to persuade him to withdraw, but Herbert already has said he will be a candidate. Herbert is running for attorney general and Turner for treasurer.

The Central and Executive Committee meets here next week to determine its next move, which could include withholding party support from Turner and Herbert, denying them party advertising and financial support and not announcing their speaking schedules.

To further this trend locally, the Maders are offering plastic flag pins without charge.

The first of these were pinned by the Maders this week on Circleville Chief of Police, Robert Temple, and Pickaway County Sheriff, Dwight E. Radcliff.

Along with the pins, the Mader firm is making available a full-color booklet outlining the history of the American flag and explaining how and when "Old Glory" should be displayed.

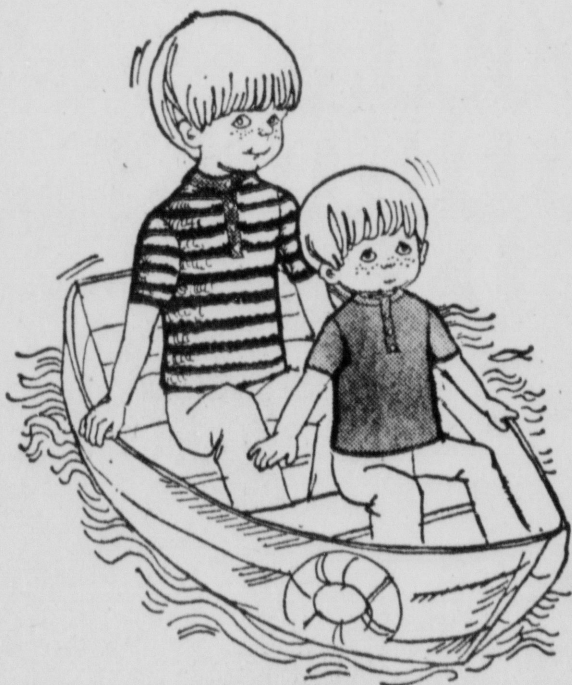

In announcing the availability of the pins and booklet, the Maders said: "It seems to us that there has been a move away from flag and country in recent years. Michigan's Griffin Faces Antiwar Pressure

By H. L. SCHWART III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure and conflict pursue Robert P. Griffin relentlessly.

Even at home his 19-year-old son vigorously opposes the Vietnam war while a 17-year-old collects pictures of Barry Goldwater.

The assistant Republican leader of the U.S. Senate can dismiss this quirk with a philosophical wave of the hand. But it is symbolic of other pressures, mounting daily, that keep him awake nights between 16 to 20-hour working days.

Prolonged Senate debate on the invasion of Cambodia has thrust Griffin back onto the national stage where, despite dramatic success in championing unpopular causes, he has never quite caught on.

But Griffin's increasing defense of the administration is causing worry among some friends and supporters. They feel he has taken a turn to the right that could harm him politically in Washington and in his labor-dominated home state of Michigan where faint rumblings can be heard.

Others—not quite so friendly—feel the Republican whip is too ambitious.

They accuse him—anonymous—of trying to shoulder aside GOP Leader Hugh Scott, a 69-year-old Pennsylvanian trying to preserve the necessary liberal credentials for re-election this year.

Griffin denies both charges. "I don't look at things in terms of right or left," says the 46-year-old small town lawyer in the slow, cautious tones that are the hallmark of his public image. "In close situations, I believe in giving my president the benefit of the doubt."

With a resigned sigh, Griffin also denies the widespread but only whispered accusations that he is after Scott's job.

"Really," he says, "the best thing that could happen to me would be for Hugh to shore up his position so there just isn't any doubt he'll be re-elected."

Nevertheless, the murmurs behind his back—which Griffin acknowledges are the price of leadership—go on. They add to the pressures that friend and enemy agree make his present situation the roughest in the Senate.

Those pressures began almost the instant Griffin was elected whip. A compromise choice, the election was accomplished with the help of a dozen or so liberal-moderates who, with some justification, consider themselves the Senate's real Republican power brokers.

Only a few months earlier Abe Fortas had resigned from the Supreme Court following conflict of interest charges. The move appeared to vindicate Griffin's lonely battle of a year earlier to block Fortas' nomination as chief justice.

The liberal-moderates were elated when Griffin, shortly after becoming whip, broke with the White House on the high court nomination of Clement F. Haynsworth Jr.

His decision was a crucial factor in Haynsworth's defeat. A 10-year congressman from a conservative Michigan district before going to the Senate in 1966, Griffin further endeared himself to the liberal-moderates by siding with them in fights over minority hiring and voting rights proposals.

Then came the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell.

Scott was away campaigning much of the time in a state where the Carswell nomination was not popular anyway. Griffin felt it his duty to fill the leadership void. But he confided to friends that he was not happy with the nomination. And he managed to convey an air of reluctance.

It was the U.S. attack into Cambodia that brought his troubles bubbling near the surface. "It was several weeks ago we began to get the impression he was setting himself up as the man the White House talks to in the Senate," says one of the liberal-moderates.

"He was running with Dole and that crowd," says this man, referring to Republican Robert J. Dole of Kansas, one of the Senate's most outspoken conservatives. "We told him very clearly he has no future here or in Michigan with that bunch."

"Basically, I agree with the President on the Cambodian decision," Griffin says. "It was within his constitutional powers and I believe history will prove him right."

Circleville, Ohio

Willie's Dillies

By BILL McGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

It's back to early supper, washing uniforms and leading the cheers at the ball park for Mom again . . . You've guessed it . . . Little League is back on the agenda and a busy summer in store for the mothers of the future big leaguers . . . It's a lot of work but it makes it all worthwhile when the kitchen door flies open and an excited voice shouts, "Hey, Mom, we won."

We are all in favor of the Little League as it keeps minds active and bodies strong but it must always belong to the youngsters and adults should guide not dominate the little guys.

So to all you players . . . We hope the pitchers have no hitters and the hitters home runs . . . Try to figure that combination out.

Confidence is the backbone of any winning effort and we talked to a Little Leaguer who seemed a slight bit short of the ingredient.

When we asked what kind of a team they had, he replied, "Terrible, we won't be able to beat anyone. I'm the first basemen and I can't catch the ball but the coach said not to worry because we don't have a kid that can throw the ball that far."

Our little gem of information — Jimmy Piersall celebrated his 100th home run while playing for the New York Mets by running the bases backwards in the Polo Grounds.

Our "fearless" forecast — Julius Boros will tour the course ahead of the rest in the Western Open.

Until next time, have a nice day—be a good sport.

Kart Race Set In Commercial This Weekend

The second annual Go-Kart race will be held Saturday and Sunday in Commercial Point. It is a Grand Prix type event and will utilize the streets in the village. The course will cover six tenths of a mile and will have hazardous turns and straight stretches.

The karts are capable of high speeds and will provide plenty of thrills and excitement.

Festivities will begin at noon Saturday with Mayor John Kaiser in charge of opening ceremonies. These will be followed by practice runs and three races.

Activities will commence at 12:30 p.m. Sunday and continue until all events are completed.

Over 200 karts are expected to enter and a large crowd will be on hand to watch the action.

Refreshment stands will be located throughout the village and dinner will be served both days.

Admission is free and suitable parking facilities are available.

The event is sponsored by the Commercial Point Volunteer Fire Department and all proceeds will go to the building fund for the new fire house.

Finley's Attempt To Buy Seals Halted

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Legal maneuvering has blocked Charles O. Finley's plans to buy the Oakland Seals.

The price of the National Hockey League team also appears to have risen as a result of Thursday's court action. A written offer topping Finley's bid by $400,000 was presented on behalf of a group headed by Jerry Seltzer of Oakland, owner of the Roller Derby.

Finley's offer was $3.4 million and he would waive rights to $700,000 in NHL expansion money. Seltzer has offered $4.5 million.

All 18 toll stations on Kentucky's 430-mile system of turnpikes now are equipped with emergency first aid vehicles. The state also is giving first aid training to 360 toll road employees.

Cleveland Turns Back Oakland, 6-5

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "It was the biggest thrill I've ever had in baseball," declared rookie Roy Foster Thursday night in talking about his two-run homer in the 10th inning which gave the Cleveland Indians a 6-5 victory over the Oakland Athletics.

Foster shared hero honors with Chuck Hinton, whose two-run blast as a pinch hitter in the ninth tied the score for the Indians.

"I've hit home runs before, but this one won a ball game," Foster said happily.

He said he thought he hit "a high slider sort of on the inside of the plate" and it looked as though reliever Paul Lindblad "took something off the ball."

Foster was sent to left field in the seventh inning after Duke Sims, the catcher turned outfielder, limped off the field in the sixth following his pop fly to third baseman Sal Bando. Sims had a pulled muscle in the calf of his right leg, an injury that could bench him for two weeks.

Hinton's homer was his first of the season and the 100th of his career. He said he couldn't call it his best homer ever, "but it was a good one."

Ohio University Faces Brent Strom

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Ohio University will face Brent Strom one of the holdovers from the 1968 Southern California national championship team, in the College World Series tonight.

Strom, a stylish lefthander, has rolled up a 13-1 record and helped the five-time NCAA kings post a 47-12 mark as the top-ranked college nine this season.

Northrup, Tigers Top Milwaukee, 6-2

Parnelli Jones Outdistances All Opponents In Baja Race

ENSENADA, Mexico (AP) — Parnelli Jones ran away from his reputation as a pedestrian in the Baja's rugged off-road races, outdistancing the opposition in record-smashing time. "Winning is the only way," the 36-year-old veteran driver from Torrance, Calif., said Thursday after doing just that in the Baja 500, winning the 557-mile race in 11 hours, 55 minutes.

Jones, former Indianapolis 500 winner, averaged 46 miles per hour in a Bronco Pony. Owner-builder Bill Stroppe was along as navigator.

They destroyed the old mark of 15 hours set last year by Bud Ekins and Guy Jones of Sherman Oaks, Calif., in an Oldsmobile Baja Boot. In four other Baja California racing attempts, including last year's Baja 500, Jones' machines failed to hold up under the strain.

"I've probably got a reputation of being a crazy driver — one who just wants to go flat out," he said, "and that's not completely so."

"Usually something would go wrong with the engine or the axle. I never crashed them. I like to finish like anybody else."

While Jones was the overall winner, the first to cross the finish line was a motorcycle in 12 hours, 36 minutes. Bill Silverthorn of Lemon Grove, Calif., and Gene Fetty of El Cajon, Calif., took turns driving the Husqvarna bike.

Motorcycles were early starters in the race over mountains and deserts. The 240 machines of all descriptions started Wednesday at one-minute intervals.

Race officials said final results will not be available for at least a week.

One mishap was reported. Craig Erickson, 26, of Long Beach, Calif., lost control of his motorcycle near Laguna Chapala. He was taken to a Chul Vista, Calif. hospital where officials said he was semi-conscious and in poor condition.

Youth Baseball Needs Uniforms

Charles Thomas, vice president of the Circleville Youth Baseball Program Inc., announced today that quite a few uniforms had never been returned by participants in last summer's program.

Thomas said that some teams do not have enough uniforms this year because of this.

He urged everyone who has not returned his uniform to either leave it at the Circleville Fire Department or to contact him at his home, 400 Sunnyview Drive. His telephone number is 474-4543.

Bump Elliott Back At University Of Iowa

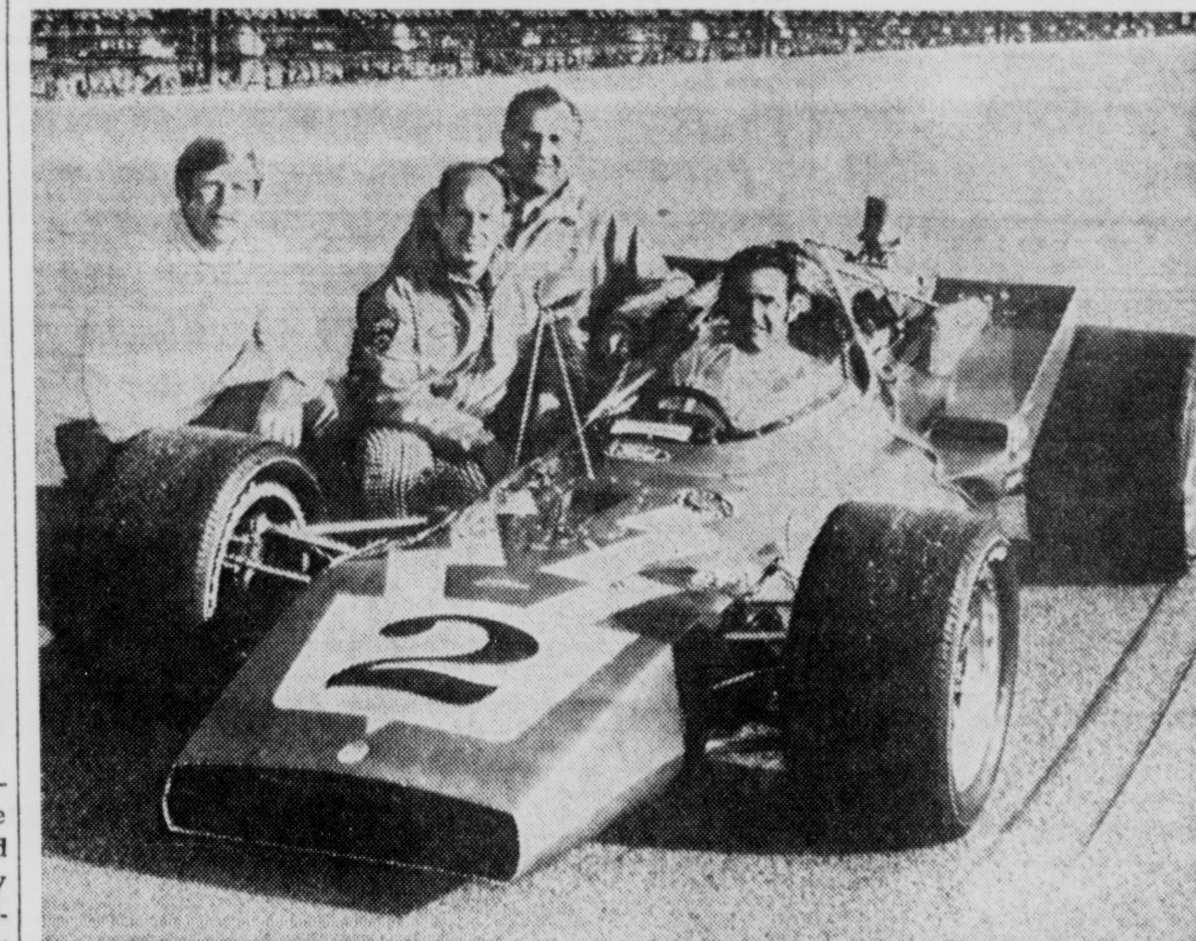

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Chalmers B. "Bump" Elliott, named athletic director at the University of Iowa Thursday, has a good head start toward winning the devotion of Hawkeye football fans—who are both legion and vociferous.

Elliott, 45, became popular with many fans during five years (1952-56) as an assistant to Forest Evashevski, the man he will replace as athletic director and who recommended him for the job.

The Columbus Jets four-game series with Syracuse, the second place team in the International League, has come to an end with a 2-2 series split.

Tony Solaita drove in all Syracuse runs with a homer and two doubles Thursday night to lead Syracuse to a 3-1 series ending victory over Columbus. Lefty Rob Gardner stopped Columbus on six hits.

reer grand slam Thursday night, snapping a 2-2 tie and sending the Tigers to a 6-2 triumph over Milwaukee. The blow came off left-hander John O'Donoghue, who entered the game just to pitch to the lefty swinging Northrup.

In the only other scheduled American League games, Baltimore crushed California 9-1 and Cleveland nipped Oakland 6-5 in 10 innings. The Washington at Kansas City contest was called by rain.

The 30-year-old Northrup, in his sixth major league campaign, last clouted a grand slam in 1968 when he ripped four in regular season play and added another in the sixth game of the World Series against St. Louis.

And if Northrup's clout is an omen, the Tigers were the world champions in 1968 but finished second last year when the 6-foot-2, 190-pounder was blanked in the grand slam department. Also, Denny McLain, Detroit's ace right-hander returns for action in less than three weeks.

The two-time Cy Young award winner, coming off a half-season suspension, is scheduled to start against the New York Yankees on July 1.

Rain Cancels Games; New Slate Set

Due to the cancellation of all of Thursday's Youth Baseball games, the following make-up schedule has been made:

Friday — Coca-Cola vs Elks (LL Majors), Ted Lewis Park little league diamond, 5:30 p.m.; Barnhill's vs Circleville Auto, S. Court School, 6 p.m.

Saturday — Third National Bank vs Savings Bank (Pony), Ted Lewis Park softball diamond, 10 a.m.; Herald Hawks vs Bingham Drugs (LL Majors), Ted Lewis Park little league diamond, 10 a.m.; PPG vs K of C (Mosquito), Atwater School, 10 a.m.; DuPont vs Kiwanis (Babe Ruth), Ted Lewis Park softball diamond, 1 p.m.

Tour Director Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tour Director moved up from third at the head of the stretch to nose out Lightning Wave Thursday night in the $13,000 Challenger Stake Pace feature at Scioto Downs.

The victory, Tour Director's third in three outings this season, paid $4,40, $2,60 and $2.20. Lightning Wave returned $2.80 and $2.40 and Katfish showed for $2.60. Time of the mile was 2:02 2-5.

The 4 - 5 quinella returned $16.50 and a 7-1 daily double combination of Mr. D. J. and Shellee Creed paid $45.60. A crowd of 5,461 wagered $276,509.

Northrup, now batting .283 with eight homers and 31 RBI, helped the Tigers tie the game at 2-2 in the seventh when he scored after walking and moving to second on a sacrifice. He came home on loser Gene Brabender's wild pickoff attempt at second.

Winner Joe Niekro, 6-5, scattered seven hits but needed ninth inning relief help before Milwaukee was subdued.

The Orioles slammed four homers, including a three-run shot by Dave Johnson and got two-hit pitching from Mike Cuellar in stopping the Angels.

Merv Rettenmund, Frank Robinson and Boog Powell also ripped round-trippers for the Orioles. It was Powell's 17th of the season, giving him the AL lead. Cuellar, 7-4, issued a first inning double to Jarvis Tatum and a single by Sandy Alomar in the third.

Chuck Hinton clubbed a two-run pinch homer in the ninth to tie the score and rookie Roy Foster slammed another two-run blow to give the Indians their victory. Jack Heideman and Eddie Leon also crashed homers for Cleveland. Felipe Alou and Joe Rudi drilled solo blows for the A's.

Steve Reid Leads Western Open With Round Of 66

CHICAGO (AP) — Steve Reid, a six-year circuit player with only one major victory, had a "mystery" grip on first place as the $130,000 Western Open Golf Tournament entered its second day today.

Reid, 33, fired a paradoxical 30-36—66 round over Beverly Country Club's par 36-35—71 tightly-wooded acres yesterday for a one-stroke lead over a congested flock of eight runners deadlocked at 67.

Reid, who has earned only $11,000 this year and scored his only PGA triumph in the 1968 Azalea Open, attributed his five-under-par triumph to a change in his club grip and mechanics of his swing before the 1970 tour began.

"I can't explain the grip change I made, but it has changed my game," said Reid. "But it apparently is paying off, even though I was playing so poorly two months ago, I almost switched back to my old style of gripping the club."

Reid didn't say whether his newfound grip applied to his putter.

But it was a devastating touch on the greens that gave Reid his six-under-par 30 first nine after he opened on the flip flop start, with a one-over-par 36 on Beverly's back nine.

Reid trickled home six birdie putts of 40, 20, 15, 12, 9 and 8 feet, as he sneaked in one stroke ahead of such 67 shooters as Arnie Palmer, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Dick Lotz, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Hugh Royer. In a 26-player logjam at 72, six strokes off the pace, was pre-tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus, who commented: "On this kind of course, you can open with a 72 and still be a contender."

Nicklaus blamed his one-over-par round on "pulling the wrong clubs out of the bag—I just played 13 of 14 holes the wrong way and didn't putt well at all."

Palmer, again drawing a huge "Arnie's Army" gallery, seemed ready for a strong run at the $26,000 top prize. Rallying from a startling four-putt second green, Palmer wound up with five birdies and an impressive nine one-putt greens with his 34-33 round.

After today's second round, the 150-player field will be cut to the low 70s scorers and ties for the final two rounds.

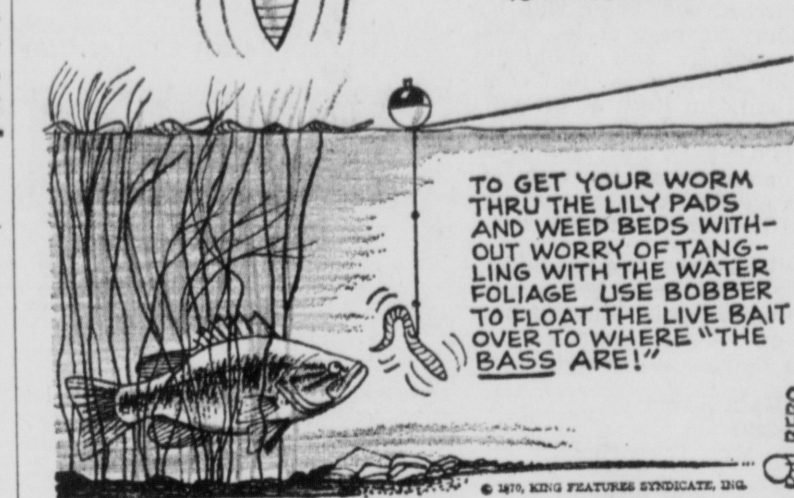

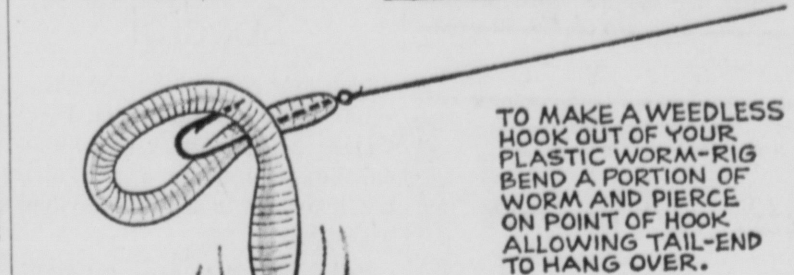

Reid, playing his 20th tourney of the year, had his best 1970 finish with sixth in last week's Kemper Open.

"After finishing one-over-par in my first round, I had as much confidence in my putter as I did in my being able to fly," said Reid. "But when I sank that 15-footer on the second hole of the last nine, my putter simply got red hot."

Montreal Turns Off Reds Winning Streak In 8-4 Tilt

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Expos ended their six game losing streak to the Cincinnati Reds and shut off the Rhinelanders at five consecutive victories by topping Cincinnati 8-4 Thursday night.

The loss cut Cincinnati's Western lead on the Atlanta Braves to nine games.

The Reds fly to Philadelphia today for a three-game series with the Phillies.

Montreal solved Reds' hurler Jim Merritt for five runs in the first inning. Merritt, baseball's winningest pitcher with 11 victories, was charged with his fourth defeat.

The Expos jumped ahead on doubles by Don Hahn and Rusty Staub, singles by Adolfo Phillips and Coco Laboy and a three-run homer by catcher John Bateman.

The Reds came back in the fourth as Tony Perez rapped his 22nd homer of the year. Johnny Bench walked and Lee May and Tommy Helms hit singles scoring two runs. Bench pulled the Reds to within one, 5-4 with his 19th homer of the year in the sixth inning.

Pinch-hitter Bob Bailey hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth, and Laboy padlocked the win for Montreal with a double in the seventh off reliever Tony Cloninger.

Carl Morton picked up his sixth win for Montreal, holding the Reds to eight hits before relieving in the seventh by Claude Raymond.

Thoughtful Judge

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When hundreds waited in line at Louisville to buy their 1970 auto license plates before the deadline, County Judge Todd Hollenbach ordered hot coffee served to them.

The judge even told police to wait a couple of days before cracking down on motorists who failed to get their new tags before the March 1 deadline.

Hollenbach also admitted he overlooked purchasing a tag for the family car until one day after the deadline.

Bonuses May Enter NHL Negotiations

MONTREAL (AP) — If professional hockey clubs made a practice of paying large bonuses to top amateur draft choices in the past, they made little noise about it.

But that could change after Thursday's all-time high amateur draft in which the 14 National Hockey League clubs grabbed a record 116 top junior graduates.

The reason that could bring the change is that four of the first six picks are represented by lawyers, with one attorney—Bob Woolf of Boston—outspoken on the matter of bonuses for his three clients as part of the price the drafting clubs will pay for the youngsters' services.

"They've had huge bonus clauses for signing in baseball, basketball and football in the States for years," Woolf said.

As in Wednesday's expansion draft, the Buffalo Sabres and the Vancouver Canucks—the two new editions to the NHL—drafted first and second in the amateur affair.

Buffalo's Punch Imlach started off as expected by taking talented center Gilbert Perreault, a graduate of the Montreal Canadiens of the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior A Series.

To Imlach's advantage, Perreault, a native of Arthabaska, Que., does not employ a lawyer to represent him. However, Perreault said he'll carry his own interpreter into any salary discussions "for both me and Mr. Imlach."

Bud Poile, the Canucks' general manager, drafted Dale Tallon from the Toronto Marlboros of the OHA as his first choice. Tallon is represented by Alan Eagleson, the Toronto lawyer who doubles as executive-director of the NHL Players' Association.

Consolidated Now

LAS VEGAS, N.M. (AP) — For the first time since 1879, this northern New Mexico community, has a consolidated governing body.

From 1879 until March 1970, there were two communities, with separate city governing agencies, police and fire forces and school district administrations. The towns were known as West Las Vegas and Town of Las Vegas.

Chicago Cubs Stop Padres, 7-1

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
If runs and double plays are a pitcher's best friends, Bill Hands of the Chicago Cubs isn't lacking for companionship this season.

The right-hander, who won 20 games and was one of the few bright spots in the Cubs' stretch collapse last year, got some of each Thursday night in turning back the San Diego Padres 7-1 and boosting his record to 8-4.

The double plays cropped up when Hands needed them most. The Padres had tied the score 1-1 in the last of the first and had the bases loaded, but Hands induced Ivan Murrell to bounce into an inning-ending double play.

A single and a walk had Hands in trouble to start the second, but Jim Hickman started a snappy first-to-third-to-second twin killing on Mike Corkins' hunt and Hands fanned Dave Campbell. Then he settled down.

Elsewhere in the National League, Montreal turned on Cincinnati 8-4, Los Angeles outlasted St. Louis 2-1 in 12 innings and Atlanta defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

An error and three walks gave the Cubs a run in the first and they added two more in the second off Corkins on Cleo James' single, Hands' sacrifice, Glenn Beckert's run-scoring single and Billy Williams' RBI double.

Hands hit a sacrifice fly in the third and Jim Hickman hammered his 14th homer in the sixth following a Williams single. The Cubs got their final run in the seventh on doubles by James and Paul Popovich.

Hands scattered six hits, struck out one batter in each of the first eight innings and snapped a personal two-game losing streak.

The difference between this year and last, when Hands got off to a 5-5 start, is the runs the Cubs are scoring for him.

"All these runs being scored for me this year should be a good omen. I've always been a notoriously slow starter. And I have had a few mediocre performances that have turned out well because of the strong support."

Whitworth And Mills Lead In LPGA Golf

BOSTON (AP) — Kathy Whitworth and Mary Mills, a pair of veteran golfers with dollar signs instead of stardust in their eyes, shared the lead today with Shirley Englehorn and JoAnne Gunderson Carner in hot pursuit in the $30,000 Ladies PGA championship.

Misses Whitworth and Mills, both former champions, whipped rolling terrain, mammoth but lightning fast greens and tricky winds for four-under-par 69s Thursday in the opening round of the 72-hole event at the Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Maury Wills opened the Dodgers' 12th with a single, took second on Frank Linzy's wild pitch and scored the winning run on a double by Willie Davis to topple the Cardinals.

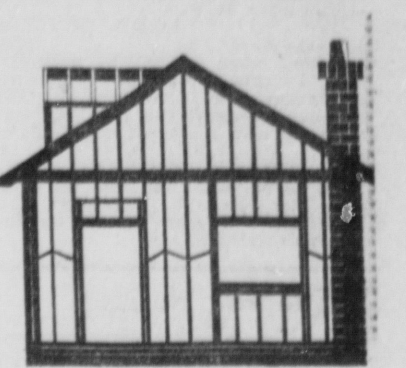

Starters Don Sutton of Los Angeles and Steve Carlton of St. Louis battled through 10 innings locked in a 1-1 tie. The Cards scored in the fourth on singles by Richie Allen and Joe Torre and Joe Hague's sacrifice fly and the Dodgers tied it up in their half of the inning on Manny Mota's second homer of the season.

Old Hoyt Wilhelm choked a seventh-inning Philadelphia rally with a double fly pitch that helped the Braves beat the Phillies.

Wilhelm, who'll be 47 next month, came on with one out, the bases loaded, a 3-0 count on Tony Taylor and the Braves leading 6-1. He completed the walk to Taylor, forcing in one run, and then walked Oscar Gamble, pushing another across. He then went to a 3-2 count on Ron Stone before getting him to hit into a double play.

Rico Carty's triple and the first of Orlando Cepeda's three singles drove in two runs off loser Rick Wise in the third and Cepeda singled home another after Carty bounced into a bases-loaded double play.

Steve Reid Leads Western Open With Round Of 66

CHICAGO (AP) — Steve Reid, a six-year circuit player with only one major victory, had a "mystery" grip on first place as the $130,000 Western Open Golf Tournament entered its second day today.

Reid, 33, fired a paradoxical 30-36—66 round over Beverly Country Club's par 36—35—71 tightly-wooded acres yesterday for a one-stroke lead over a congested flock of eight runners deadlocked at 67.

Reid, who has earned only $11,000 this year and scored his only PGA triumph in the 1968 Azalea Open, attributed his five-under-par triumph to a change in his club grip and mechanics of his swing before the 1970 tour began.

"I can't explain the grip change I made, but it has changed my game," said Reid. "But it apparently is paying off, even though I was playing so poorly two months ago, I almost switched back to my old style of gripping the club."

Reid didn't say whether his newfound grip applied to his putter.

But it was a devastating touch on the greens that gave Reid his six-under-par 30 first nine after he opened on the flip flop start, with a one-over-par 36 on Beverly's back nine.

Reid tricked home six birdie putts of 40, 20, 15, 12, 9 and 8 feet, as he sneaked in one stroke ahead of such 67 shooters as Arnie Palmer, Dow Finsterwald, Bob Charles, Johnny Pott, Dick Lotz, Bobby Nichols, Tommy Jacobs and Hugh Royer. In a 26-player logjam at 72, six strokes off the pace, was pre-tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus, who commented: "On this kind of course, you can open with a 72 and still be a contender."

Nicklaus blamed his one-over-par round on "pulling the wrong clubs out of the bag—I just played 13 of 14 holes the wrong way and didn't putt well at all."

Palmer, again drawing a huge "Arnie's Army" gallery, seemed ready for a strong run at the $25,000 top prize. Rallying from a startling four-putt second green, Palmer wound up with five birdies and an impressive nine one-putt greens with his 34-33 round.

After today's second round, the 150-player field will be cut to the low 70s scorers and ties for the final two rounds.

Reid, playing his 20th tourney of the year, had his best 1970 finish with sixth in last week's Kemper Open.

"After finishing one-over-par in my first round, I had as much confidence in my putter as I did in my being able to fly," said Reid. "But when I sank that 15-footer on the second hole of the last nine, my putter simply got red hot."

Bonuses May Enter NHL Negotiations

MONTREAL (AP) — If professional hockey clubs made a practice of paying large bonuses to top amateur draft choices in the past, they made little noise about it.

But that could all change after Thursday's all-time high amateur draft in which the 14 National Hockey League clubs grabbed a record 116 top junior graduates.

The reason that could bring the change is that four of the first six picks are represented by lawyers, with one attorney—Bob Woolf of Boston—outspoken on the matter of bonuses for his three clients as part of the price the drafting clubs will pay for the youngsters' services.

"They've had huge bonus clauses for signing in baseball, basketball and football in the States for years," Woolf said.

As in Wednesday's expansion draft, the Buffalo Sabres and the Vancouver Canucks—the two new editions to the NHL—drafted first and second in the amateur affair.

Buffalo's Punch Imlach started off as expected by taking talented center Gilbert Perreault, a graduate of the Ontario Hockey Association's Junior A Series.

To Imlach's advantage, Perreault, a native of Arthabaska, Que., does not employ a lawyer to represent him. However, Perreault said he'll carry his own interpreter into any salary discussions "for both me and Mr. Imlach."

Bud Poile, the Canucks' general manager, drafted Dale Talton from the Toronto Marlboros of the OHA as his first choice.

Talton is represented by Alan Eagleson, the Toronto lawyer who doubles as executive-director of the NHL Players' Association.

Consolidated Now

LAS VEGAS, N.M. (AP) — For the first time since 1879, this northern New Mexico community, has a consolidated governing body.

From 1879 until March 1970, there were two communities, with separate city governing agencies, police and fire forces and school district administrations. The towns were known as West Las Vegas and Town of Las Vegas.

Chicago Cubs Stop Padres, 7-1

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

If runs and double plays are a pitcher's best friends, Bill Hands of the Chicago Cubs isn't lacking for companionship this season.

The right-hander, who won 20 games and was one of the few bright spots in the Cubs' stretch collapse last year, got some of each Thursday night in turning back the San Diego Padres 7-1 and boosting his record to 8-4.

The double plays cropped up when Hands needed them most. The Padres had tied the score 1-1 in the last of the first and had the bases loaded, but Hands induced Ivan Murrell to bounce into an inning-ending double play.

A single and a walk had Hands in trouble to start the second, but Jim Hickman started a snappy first-to-third-to-second twin killing on Mike Corkins' bunt and Hands fanned Dave Campbell. Then he settled down.

Elsewhere in the National League, Montreal turned on Cincinnati 8-4, Los Angeles outlasted St. Louis 2-1 in 12 innings and Atlanta defeated Philadelphia 6-4.

An error and three walks gave the Cubs a run in the first and they added two more in the second off Corkins on Cleo James' single, Hands' sacrifice, Glenn Beckert's run-scoring single and Billy Williams' RBI double.

Hands hit a sacrifice fly in the third and Jim Hickman hammered his 14th homer in the sixth following a Williams single. The Cubs got their final run in the seventh on doubles by James and Paul Popovich.

Hands scattered six hits, struck out one batter in each of the first eight innings and snapped a personal two-game losing streak.

The difference between this year and last, when Hands got off to a 5-5 start, is the runs the Cubs are scoring for him.

"All these runs being scored for me this year should be a good omen. I've always been a notoriously slow starter. And I have had a few mediocre performances that have turned out well because of the strong support."

Whitworth And Mills Lead In LPGA Golf

BOSTON (AP) — Kathy Whitworth and Mary Mills, a pair of veteran golfers with dollar signs instead of stardust in their eyes, shared the lead today with Shirley Englehorn and JoAnne Gunderson Carner in hot pursuit in the $30,000 Ladies PGA championship.

Misses Whitworth and Mills, both former champions, whipped rolling terrain, mammoth but lightning fast greens and tricky winds for four-under-par 69s Thursday in the opening round of the 72-hole event at the Pleasant Valley Country Club.

Maury Wills opened the Dodgers' 12th with a single, took second on Frank Linzy's wild pitch and scored the winning run on a double by Willie Davis to topple the Cardinals.

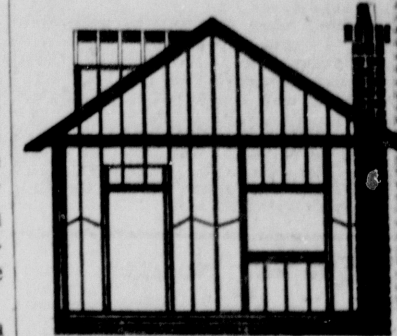

Starters Don Sutton of Los Angeles and Steve Carlton of St. Louis battled through 10 innings locked in a 1-1 tie. The Cards scored in the fourth on singles by Richie Allen and Joe Torre and Joe Hague's sacrifice fly and the Dodgers tied it up in their half of the inning on Manny Mota's second homer of the season.

Old Hoyt Wilhelm choked a seventh-inning Philadelphia rally with a double play pitch that helped the Braves beat the Phillies.

Wilhelm, who'll be 47 next month, came on with one out, the bases loaded, a 3-0 count on Tony Taylor and the Braves leading 6-1. He completed the walk to Taylor, forcing in one run, and then walked Oscar Gamble, pushing another across. He then went to a 3-2 count on Ron Stone before getting him to hit into a double play.

Rico Carty's triple and the first of Orlando Cepeda's three singles drove in two runs off loser Rick Wise in the third and Cepeda singled home another after Carty bounced into a bases-loaded double play.

Montreal Turns Off Reds Winning Streak In 8-4 Tilt

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Expos ended their six game losing streak to the Cincinnati Reds and shut off the Rhinelanders at five consecutive victories by toppling Cincinnati 8-4 Thursday night.

The loss cut Cincinnati's Western lead on the Atlanta Braves to nine games.

The Reds fly to Philadelphia today for a three-game series with the Phillies.

Montreal solved Reds' hurler Jim Merritt for five runs in the first inning. Merritt, baseball's winningest pitchers with 11 victories, was charged with his fourth defeat.

The Expos jumped ahead on doubles by Don Hahn and Rusty Staub, singles by Adolfo Phillips and Coco Laboy and a three-run homer by catcher John Bateman.

The Reds came back in the fourth as Tony Perez rapped his 22nd homer of the year. Johnny Bench walked and Lee May and Tommy Helms hit singles scoring two runs. Bench pulled the Reds to within one, 5-4 with his 19th homer of the year in the sixth inning.

Pinch-hitter Bob Bailey hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth, and Laboy padlocked the win for Montreal with a double in the seventh off reliever Tony Cloninger.

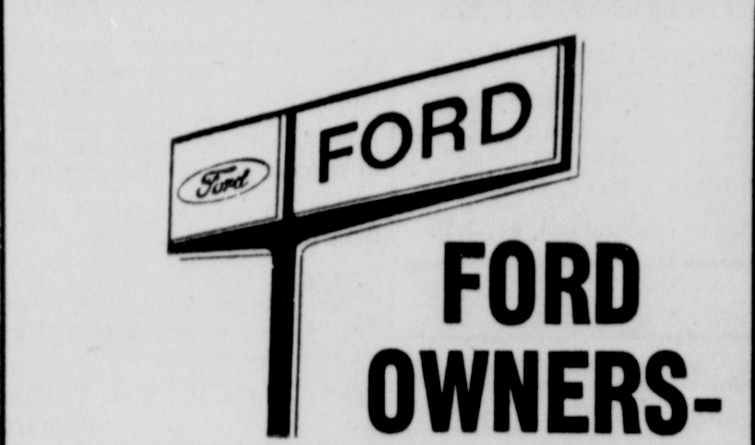

Carl Morton picked up his sixth win for Montreal, holding the Reds to eight hits before relieving in the seventh by Claude Raymond.

Thoughtful Judge

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When hundreds waited in line at Louisville to buy their 1970 auto license plates before the deadline, County Judge Todd Hollenbach ordered hot coffee served to them.

The judge even told police to wait a couple of days before cracking down on motorists who failed to get their new tags before the March 1 deadline.

Hollenbach also admitted he overlooked purchasing a tag for the family car until one day after the deadline.

Extradition Of Yablonski Suspects Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes likely will agree to the extradition of five persons accused in the deaths of United Mine Workers official Joseph Yablonski, a spokesman said Thursday.

Earlier Thursday, Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer signed the request for extradition of Paul E. Gilly, Annette Gilly, Aubran W. Martin and Claude E. Vealey, all of the Cleveland area, and Mrs. Gilly's father, Silous Huddleston, of LaFollette, Tenn. All have been indicted in Pennsylvania on three counts each of murder.

The five were indicted in Cleveland for conspiracy in the deaths last winter of Yablonski, his wife and daughter at their home near Washington, Pa.

Gilly and his wife are held in the Stark County jail in Canton. Vealey is in the Summit County jail in Akron and Huddleston remains in the Cuyahoga County jail along with Vealey.

Rhodes' office said if the extradition request is found to be in order upon receipt, the governor will issue warrants ordering the five to Pennsylvania.

Youth Gets His Degree At Age 19

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Jim Lagos is exceptional, and in a hurry.

Lagos dropped out of high school in 1968 at the age of 17 to drop into college. Now, at 19, his undergraduate college days are practically over.

He began taking college level courses when he was a sophomore at Springfield Shawnee High School. He was graduated from Shawnee in his junior year and enrolled at Wittenberg University here. In five regular semesters and two summer terms, Lagos completed 35 of the 36 courses required for graduation.

In March he joined the Air National Guard for a six-month hitch.

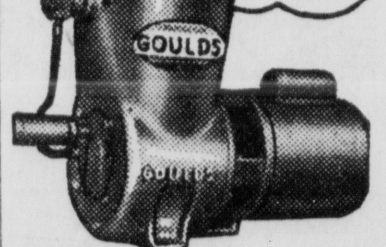

He is currently stationed at Sheppard Air Force Base in Texas, where he enrolled in a college course — United States history — the one requirement he needs for graduation at Wittenberg.

This weekend he will return to Wittenberg and graduate with honors, receiving a bachelor's degree.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Anonymous letters and those signed with the request that signatures be withheld will not be accepted for publication. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

The following information is provided to clarify the facts relative to the student Letters to the Editor and the resignation of music staff member William O'Neil.

The reference to poor health as a reason for his resignation was not given to the Principal, the Superintendent or in the letter of resignation.

Mr. O'Neil and Mr. Kerns were informed last week that an additional staff member was being considered and every effort being made to employ the person immediately. A conference was held last Friday with the candidate, the principals, elementary supervisory and instrumental music instructors. Mr. O'Neil's resignation was not received until the following Tuesday. Efforts had been under way for months to move in this direction. Both men had indicated in previous conferences that they preferred relief at the elementary level and high school choir.

The additional staff member was to be employed to permit more time for sectional work in the instrumental program at the Junior and Senior High, not because anyone was over-worked.

It should be pointed out that an additional member was added to the music department four years ago. Formerly two staff members did what three now do in grades 6-12 with 5th grade instrumental added.

Mr. O'Neil is required to teach the following: Band, 45 minutes per day; Choir, 45 minutes per day; Elementary Vocal and Instrumental, 1 hour, 10 minutes per day.

He has the remaining time for sectional and individual instruction at the high school. He is given one 45 minute free period, five periods per week and 45 minutes per day to travel and organize between an elementary school and the high school.

All secondary teachers in the school system are assigned seven periods of the 8 period day. He has more free school time assigned than other staff members.

Mr. O'Neil requested the choir assignment when he accepted this position two years ago. He had recently asked to be relieved of it and was told that if an additional qualified capable instructor could be employed, he would be relieved. When asked if he wished to be relieved of either marching or concert band, he indicated that he would desire to have both. The band director received additional pay for the work performed after school and during the month of August.

The folk group was his own idea and not a requirement. All other groups have traditionally been a part of the music department's activities.

A band director position is similar to coaching. Automatically there are time requirements. These are known at the time of employment. Next year they would have been less.

The Junior High instrumental assignment requires working with more students than the High School. The Junior High instructor however, has continually complimented the effort of the school system to improve the total program. Results have indicated the success of these efforts.

The Board of Education has not refused to add additional staff. In fact they have recently given this approval.

Although the time of year is somewhat to our disadvantage and these public statements not helping in the recruitment of a replacement, we will move to secure an energetic capable band director and continue the fine program of the Circleville City Schools. We will continue however to require a reasonable amount of work by the entire staff to accomplish this objective.

They said this is also true of Battambang and Siem Reap, two provincial capitals west and north of the Tonle Sap. Both cities are military regional headquarters and are astride the only roads to Thailand. These roads may become the government's lifeline to the outside world in the months to come.

Reports from Kompong Speu indicated the fighting was still going on. A government spokesman said he considered the attack a threat to Phnom Penh, even though the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have penetrated much closer to the capital in the past.

Kompong Speu is 30 miles southwest of Phnom Penh on Route 4, the only highway still considered open between the capital and the port of Kompong Som. Kompong Som—Sihanoukville until Prince Norodom Sihanouk was deposed in March —is on the Gulf of Siam 120 miles southwest of Phnom Penh. It is the port of entry for Cambodia's petroleum supply, and Phnom Penh has only a two-week stock on hand.

Several government battalions were reported defending Kompong Speu. Some observers speculated that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese might be trying to draw more government forces out of Phnom Penh, further depleting the capital's strategic reserves.

Stockholders Fight Dealings

CHICAGO (AP)—Some stockholders of Detroit Steel Corp., Detroit, have banded together in an effort to prevent internal stock transactions between Cleveland - Cliffs Iron Co. and Cyclops Corp., two of Detroit Steel's principal shareholders.

Jacob E. Yaffe, who last week filed suit in U.S. District Court in Chicago to stop the transactions, said that the Cleveland-Cliffs and Cyclops agreements were "an attempt to divide up the assets of Detroit Steel among themselves to the detriment of the Detroit Steel stockholders."

Survey Shows Harlem Drug Addiction Rate Staggering

WASHINGTON (AP) — A house-to-house survey of a 40-block area of Harlem turned up 18,000 hard drug addicts including 2,000 children between the ages of seven and 15, Congress has been told.

And 90 per cent of those children lived by themselves.

The result of the survey was supplied to a House Appropriations subcommittee last April by Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, then director of the National Institute of Mental Health.

Dr. Yolles, in the closed-door testimony made public today, said that "In the area of hard narcotics and especially heroin addiction, I believe the committee would be interested to know that a brief survey was done in Harlem, a house-to-house survey of tenants in a 40-block area."

"The results of that survey showed that there were 22,000 adults, some 30,000 children, and some 6,000 individuals who lived in streets and alleys in this 40-block area."

"Of that number, there were 10,000 addicted adults, 6,000 children between the ages of 16 and 21 who were addicted and 2,000 children between the ages of seven and 15 who were addicted."

"Of the 2,000 children, aged seven to 15, 90 per cent lived by themselves without the presence of an adult in their immediate environment. This is what we are dealing with in the United States."

Dr. Yolles, who has since resigned, said it is estimated there now are between 100,000 and 150,000 hard narcotics addicts in the nation.

Among certain people, patriotism is considered a bad idea ... but this is only because they do not understand what patriotism is. It is not a matter of scorning change and saying that everything about America is right. It's a matter of wanting to correct what is wrong and preserve what is right ... always based upon a love for the ideals upon which this nation was founded.

You should show your patriotism; it is not something to be ashamed of. And if someone tells you that your patriotism brands you as resistant to change, explain to him that he's missed the point.

Americans save in lots of places, but a definite and very important trend is toward the insured savings and loan association, like The Scioto Building and Loan Co.

Folks are placing more of their savings dollars into these insured accounts than anywhere else. In so doing, they aid in the growth of the area, and also help other substantial citizens like themselves, own and build homes. Thus every penny they save is a step forward for the entire community.

These thrifty people receive generous dividends compounded quarterly. Their savings are protected by good management and substantial reserves. Each account is insured up to $20,000 by the Federal Savings Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the United States Government.
